In Island Crisis As 1000 Slain

Cordiality that marked the relations of Haiti and the Dominican Republic when this picture of their presidents was taken some time ago has become seriously strained with a crisis reported near as Haitians charged that Dominican troops slaughtered more than 1000 Haitian nationals who crossed the border seeking work. U. S. state officials hastily started investigation machinery. Shown here are the republic's President Rafael Trujillo, left, and Haiti's President Stenio Vincent.

NATIVES SLAUGHTERED, SAYS HAITIAN MINISTER TO U. S.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—(UP)—The Haitian government possesses irrefutable evidence that more than 1,000 of its nationals have been slaughtered on the Dominican Republic side of the border since early October, Haitian Foreign Minister Georges N. Leger told the United Press in an exclusive interview today.

Arriving here for a series of conferences with government officials including President Roosevelt and Acting Secretary of State Sumner Welles, Leger denied Dominican reports which minimized the incident and blamed the killing of Haitians on Dominican farmers who said Haitians had "illegally occupied Dominican land."

Refugees Wounded
Leger charged that Haitian refugees who escaped across the border into Haiti bore rifle wounds. "The Dominican farmers are not armed," Leger said, "and we know that the Dominican guardia and Dominican soldiers attacked the Haitians."

"Naturally it is difficult because of the remoteness of the region and because all the killings occurred on the Dominican side of the border to obtain completely accurate information regarding the actual number of Haitians wounded and killed," Leger said, "but the best available information is that the casualties run between 1000 and 2000."

Dominican Minister Andres Pastoriza, issued a prepared statement here last night characterizing the incident as of "minor character" and asserting that it was "closed."

BRIEF DOCK STRIKE AT SAN PEDRO ENDS

SAN PEDRO, Nov. 9.—(UP)—Docks bustling with activity again today after 5000 longshoremen voted to end a brief "strike" indirectly caused by a Scandinavian crew's refusal to sail for the Orient without "war bonuses."

The International Longshoremen Association voted at a mass meeting last night to work cargo of the Danish Motorship Marchen-Maersk and 40 other vessels in the harbor, aboard which operation stopped at noon yesterday.

Longshoremen also instructed the Scandinavian Seamen's club, which is not a union, to desist from picketing the Marchen-Maersk.

DUKE AGAIN CONSIDERS TRIP TO AMERICA; WILL START SOON

PARIS, Nov. 9.—(UP)—The Duke and Duchess of Windsor plan to visit the United States immediately after Christmas, English friends of the couple said today.

They will go to Honolulu, the informants said, after a tour of several weeks through the United States, during which they will make no attempt to study housing or industrial conditions.

Nazi Chief May Ask For Colonies

REMOVAL OF WAR THREAT IS SOUGHT

LONDON, Nov. 9.—(UP)—Fuehrer Adolf Hitler, following up his diplomatic victory in persuading Italy to join the German-Japanese anti-Communist alliance, may soon ask Great Britain to discuss his demand for colonies in Africa, it was reported today.

There seemed indications that Britain might consent to a discussion of the matter, but any colonial concessions would bring guarantees calculated to contribute to European peace.

Power Disturbed
Inclusion of Italy in the anti-Communist alliance has disturbed the British and French governments alike, and has made them more eager to reach some general agreement that would remove the constant threat of conflict in Europe. Particularly it was feared that the anti-Communist agreement might be used as an excuse to intervene in any selected country on a plea that Bolshevism was the enemy. This plea, it was argued, was used to justify German-Italian intervention in the Spanish Civil War.

Two Injured In Temple Explosion

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 9.—(UP)—Five persons were under treatment today for injuries as the result of a blast of pyrotechnic powder that rocked Angelus Temple last night, imperiling nearly 1000 Bible students in an adjoining building.

Police said it was a "boyish prank" that endangered the entire neighborhood near Evangelist Almee Temple McPherson's church, and laid the blame on four youthful Bible students.

Charges of "terrorizing a public meeting" were filed against two of the Bible students.

Hand Blown Off
One, whose left hand was blown off at the wrist, was Gordon Alwater, 18. The second was Edwin Bond also 18, less seriously burned. Two others who confessed participation were released.

C. OF C. FAVORS BUILDING PLAN

Meeting in special session last night, directors of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce decided to erect a new building on land to be leased from the Y. M. C. A. and situated across the street from the Hall of Records.

Decision to accept the Y. M. C. A. proposal, it was pointed out, is subject to completion of the leasing agreement with directors of the Y. M. C. A. These deals, according to Howard I. Wood, secretary of the chamber are practically completed.

Rent Free Property
Generally, the Y. M. C. A. offered the property to the chamber, rent free for 15 years, providing the chamber of commerce erect a building to cost not less than $5000 and pay taxes on the property. At the end of 15 years the building would revert to the Y. M. C. A. at which time a new leasing agreement would be made.

This morning members of the building committee, Fred Merker, C. H. Hoiles and Harry Hanson and President Rex Kennedy and Wood as ex-officio members, met to discuss preliminary plans for construction of the building. The $3500 to be paid by the county for the present chamber of commerce building on the court house annex property, will be used in construction of the building.

The firm of Austin and Wildman, architects, was authorized to prepare plans and specifications for the new structure and have them ready for early submission to the building committee and directors of the chamber.

CLOSED SHOP TEST CASE DECISION DUE

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—(UP)—The Brooklyn Supreme Court prepared a decision today on what was believed to be the first legal challenge of the constitutionality of a closed shop contract between an employer and a labor union.

The action was brought by six non-union subway workers of the Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit Company, who alleged that the contract with the Transport Workers Union, a Committee for Industrial Organization unit, would deprive them of the constitutional right to livelihood.

They alleged that the contract would force their discharge tomorrow because they are not members of the union. Their attorney, Nathan W. Math, alleged that 2200 other non-union employees of the company also faced discharge.

Mother and Child In Death Plunge

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—(UP)—Mrs. Margaret Beggs, 42, threw her five-months-old daughter, Margaret, from the roof of a seven-story building early today, then jumped herself. Police found her body in the street, the baby's on the roof of a parked automobile.

The tragedy occurred in one of the most crowded tenement districts of New York's lower East side. The family is extremely poor.

When Auto Hits Train—Here's How!

Attracted by screaming sirens and a group of witnesses to the crash, scores of motorists and pedestrians at 6 p. m. yesterday gazed with wonderment at the wreckage above. It was all that was left of the automobile driven by Percy Seldridge, 42, of Anaheim, into a Southern Pacific freight train at the Main street and Santa Clara avenue crossing. Seldridge may recover.—Photo by The Register.

F. G. PINKERTON DIES SUDDENLY

Prominent orange rancher and club man, Frank G. Pinkerton, 57, was being mourned today by hundreds of personal friends, following his sudden death from a heart attack in an office of a downtown bank building yesterday at 3:30 p. m.

According to his attorneys and other friends who saw him several times yesterday, Mr. Pinkerton, resident of 2138 North Main street, seemed to be in good health. He was sitting in a chair when the attack occurred and died almost instantly.

No Inquest
According to Deputy Coroner Bert Castelli who took charge after the Brown and Wagner ambulance and police were called, no inquest will be held.

Native of Orville, Ohio, Mr. Pinkerton came to Santa Ana 19 years ago. He operated two 10-acre orange groves here, one on Santa Clara avenue, the other on 17th street, and during that time, also traveled for the Lederle Laboratories, San Francisco firm, manufacturers of serums for vaccination of animals, particularly hogs. The prominent man was on a business visit to his lawyers when the heart attack occurred.

Mr. Pinkerton is survived by his widow, Mrs. Josephine Pinkerton, Santa Ana; son, Richard David Pinkerton, and brother, Dr. Harry B. Pinkerton, Buffalo, N. Y.

Mr. Pinkerton was a life member of the Santa Ana Lodge, No. 794, B.P.O.E.; member of the Silver Cord Lodge, No. 505, F. and A. M.; life member Long Beach Consistory, and life member of Al Malakiah temple, A.A.O.N.M.S., Los Angeles. Funeral arrangements are being made at Brown and Wagner chapel today.

"ANGEL" GIVES UP HEAVEN; GOES HOME

KINGSTON, N. Y., Nov. 9.—(UP)—Jean Becker, 20-year-old white "Angel" in Father Divine's "Promised Land," leaves for California with her parents today after reluctantly giving up her association with the Negro religious cultist.

Miss Becker ran away from her home in Los Angeles three years ago to enter one of the many "Heavens" operated by the bald, pudgy Negro whose followers call him "God." Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Becker, found her yesterday in an "Extension Heaven" in Ulster county.

The girl proudly told how she had come to New York to "work my way up to heaven." She became an "Angel" within a few months, she said, and recently was made an "Archangel."

ANAHEIM MAN HURT IN CRASH

Drunk driving was blamed by Santa Ana police for an automobile-train smashup on North Main street at Santa Clara avenue, about 6 p. m. yesterday, when Percy Seldridge, 42, 240 East Center street, Anaheim, was critically injured.

At St. Joseph hospital today, Seldridge was reported only in fair condition. With the wig-wag signal of the Southern Pacific line in operation, according to E. J. Johnson, 2640 North Main street, witness, Seldridge drove south on Main directly into a freight train's path. Johnson did not know Seldridge's speed but estimates of the train's speed were "given as about 25 miles per hour."

Two Other Persons
Engineer R. Anthony, and Conductor W. Tolls, both Los Angeles, were in charge of the freight, which hauls into Santa Ana approximately once a week. According to Officers A. F. Moulton, W. E. B. Sherwood, Charles Neer, W. H. Heard and Ernest Zimmerman, who investigated, Seldridge muddled both at the accident scene and hospital, where he was taken by Brown and Wagner ambulance, that two other persons had been with him. No one could be found, connected with the Seldridge statement. The car was demolished. Whether Seldridge would be prosecuted later, if and when he recovers, depends upon an investigation now being made by Lieutenant B. A. Hershey.

Near Death
He was reported to have little chance for recovery.

Early today Wright called Glendale police and said: "I am Paul Wright, manager of the Union Air Terminal. I have just killed my wife and wounded John Kimmel, my traffic manager."

Upon arrival at the Wright home, police found Mrs. Wright dead on a sofa. Her body was riddled with bullets.

Kimmel was on the floor gravely injured.

FIRE RAZES WALNUT GROVE 'CHINA TOWN'

WALNUT GROVE, Cal., Nov. 9.—(UP)—Firemen recovered five charred, unrecognizable bodies from the smoking ruins of Walnut Grove's Chinese quarter today following an early morning fire which left 500 orientals homeless.

The fire started at 5:30 a. m., officers said, and was brought under control several hours later with the assistance of fire equipment rushed here from Ileton and Rio Vista. About 100 buildings were razed.

Officers said it was the third time the district had been consumed by flames in the last thirty years. Most of the structures were two stories in height, of wooden and corrugated iron construction and housed about 2000 Chinese.

U. S. BUYS PLANES
WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—(UP)—The war department today announced award of a $654,155 contract to the Douglas Aircraft company, Santa Monica, Calif., for purchase of 23 additional attack airplanes, similar to those now being built for the army by this company.

The new planes are low wing monoplane carrying a crew of two and five machine guns.

LABOR ATTACKS PICKET RULING

Active steps to fight the decision handed down by Superior Judge Emmet H. Wilson, of Los Angeles county, regarding the termination of a strike, was taken by the Orange County Central Labor council at the regular meeting at the Labor Temple last night.

Following a general discussion of what was termed by local union leaders "a decision most unfair to organized labor," the council recommended that the various locals of the county make whatever monetary contributions possible to assist in taking the decision to a higher court.

Court's Ruling
Judge Wilson last Saturday ruled:

"A strike is terminated when the strikers' positions are filled with competent help, at customary wages, without the payment of a bonus and when the employer's business has returned to a normal basis and picketing may thereupon be enjoined."

"Picketing after a strike has terminated is just as unlawful as picketing when there has been no strike at all."

Other matters discussed at last night's meeting were the formation of a state sugar workers council with a uniform wage scale over the entire state as an objective.

W. B. Casey, vice president of the council, presided at last night's meeting in the absence of W. R. Pratt.

DEATH RATE MOUNTS DESPITE CAMPAIGN

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Nov. 9.—(UP)—Despite a safety drive which has resulted in the issuance of more than 1000 citations to motorists in the last five days, San Diego's traffic death toll continued to mount today.

John Tisted, 76, struck by an automobile said by police to have been driven by W. S. Rockwell, was listed as the city's 48th fatal victim since January 1. Rockwell was booked on a charge of negligent homicide.

AUTHORITIES DENY FRIEND OF DUCE ENTRANCE TO U. S.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—(UP)—Magda De Fontanges, handsome French woman who professed to have been the mistress of Premier Benito Mussolini, was excluded from this country today on grounds of "moral turpitude."

The finding of moral turpitude was based, however, not on her alleged relationship with Il Duce but on the fact that she shot Count Charles De Chambrun, former French ambassador to Italy, in Paris last March. She claimed at the time that she wounded the count because he had broken up her affair with Mussolini.

TAIYUAN IS TAKEN BY NIPPON ARMY

SHANGHAI, Nov. 9.—(UP)—While the main Chinese columns fled westward from Shanghai at a pace that was almost a rout, a comparative handful of their comrades grimly stood their ground in the Pootung area tonight, apparently forming another "Doomed Battalion."

Fires painted a weird night scene along Sincaw Creek, at the southwestern corner of the French concession, in the wake of the Chinese retreat from Shanghai, while Japanese artillery accelerated the Chinese retreat.

EXPERT CITES VOLUNTARY SMUDGE PROGRESS

COUNTY SOLONS HEAR TALK ON ORCHARD HEAT

Possibly one-tenth of the present orchard heaters now in use in Orange county groves would require modernization to comply with an anti-smudge ordinance, and all but a small percentage of them could be so modernized, at a cost of 45 to 50 cents per heater for the $7,500 estimated obsolete heaters, the county supervisors were advised today, at a discussion of the orchard heater question by Prof. W. R. Schoonover, of the state university experiment station at Riverside.

Prof. Schoonover, who said he neither favored nor opposed such an ordinance, but was merely to give the board information regarding development of heating equipment and testing methods, said that much voluntary progress had been made in the last several years by growers themselves, through the educational work conducted by the university officials.

Tolerance Vital
He also advised that if an ordinance is adopted in this county, allowance should be made for tolerance, because it is a difficult problem to be sure of keeping heaters properly regulated during a cold spell.

The discussion developed, incidentally, that:

1—The modernization of orchard heaters would benefit only in the way of eliminating smoke, and would not pay its own way by cutting fuel bills. Eliminating smoke only increases the heat volume about five per cent, Prof. Schoonover said. On the other hand, the smoke from heaters does not save fuel, as the saving caused by holding the heat to the ground is offset by the fact that the smoke keeps the sun's heat away in the morning, making it necessary to operate the heaters an hour longer.

Remodel Heaters

2—Los Angeles, San Bernardino and Riverside counties already have ordinances. In San Bernardino Riverside and Orange counties about 250,000 to 300,000 heaters would be forced out of use by ordinance. Orange county, with about 7500 acres now heated, would be forced to remodel heaters or discard them on about 750 acres. Modernizing heaters for a 10-acre grove would cost about $250.

3—Showing progress made in eliminating smoke, in 1930 Southern California burned 17,000,000 gallons of oil, which made as much smoke as the 80,000,000 gallons burned this last winter.

Testing Equipment

Prof. Schoonover said that experiments with testing smoke volume of heaters started in 1931, when measurements were made on a basis of 20 smoke units per pound of fuel burned, as the dividing line between legal and illegal heaters. Changes in methods since place the measuring method on a basis of one gram per minute. Equipment manufactured within the last 10, or even 15 years, is mostly efficient now, and only older equipment is obsolete.

Portable equipment for testing smoke volume can be constructed, and would produce tangible evidence for enforcement of an ordinance, he said.

It was suggested by A. J. Cruickshank, who accompanied Prof. Schoonover, that should an ordinance be passed, it be made effective at the end of the present heating season, to give the growers time in which to modernize their equipment.

WIFE SLAIN BY TERMINAL HEAD

Wright said he, his wife and Kimmel returned to the Wright home for a "nightcap" shortly before dawn.

Wright removed his coat and went to sleep on a sofa. Later, he awakened and saw Mrs. Wright and Kimmel embracing on a piano bench.

Wife Killed Instantly
"Everything went white," Wright told Capt. W. E. Hart of the Glendale police.

"I got my finger and opened fire," Wright said. The first bullet brought instant death to the wife, Evelyn McBride Wright. The husband then turned the gun on Kimmel.

Attaches at the air terminal said Wright, a mild-mannered and well recognized aviation expert, had been manager for about two years. He was transferred here from Chicago, they said.

At police headquarters Wright sobbed:

"She is—I mean she was—such a fine woman. I don't know why I did it."

Present in the Wright home at the time of the shooting was the Wrights' 3-year-old daughter, Helen, and a Negro maid.

They did not hear the shooting. Wright told police his wife's mother is Mrs. J. E. McBride, 94 McLane Avenue, Detroit.

LA HABRA MAN PREDICTS AREA WILL ESCAPE FROST DAMAGE

Based on weather records of the past, Southern California likely will escape frost damage this winter, according to H. A. Rathbone, of La Habra, meteorologist of the United States department of agriculture, who spoke at a meeting of citrus growers held under the auspices of the frost warning patrol at the Orange Intermediate school last night. The speaker was secured by Frank Collins.

Rathbone said that records show that severe frosts occur only every eight or nine years and that the one last winter was five years overdue. The frost patrol committee for the Orange district, consisting of H. J. Seba, William J. Fitch and Paul Struck, was re-elected. Broadcast of frost warnings will start December 1 over KNX by Floyd D. Young, of Pomona, with "flash" warnings arranged in case the weather becomes threatening before that time, it was announced. The Inland Transportation company will check temperatures in the Orange district and in the event of sudden drops in temperature, will warn growers by telephone and car, it was announced.

CHINESE ARMY GAINS. LOSSES TAX DISCUSSED

Flaming bridges and barges threatened to set fire to nearby buildings. French troops were furiously digging trenches in anticipation of pressure against the concession. Chinese troops, definitely threatened with isolation faced each other across the creek. Nonchalantly smoking cigarettes, they stood by their block houses.

TAIYUAN GARRISON ANNIHILATED

PEIPING, Nov. 9. — (UP) — The entire Chinese garrison was annihilated in the fall of Taiyuan, capital of rich Shansi Province. Japanese military authorities said tonight, paying respect to the fierce resistance of the 8th route army, formerly Communist troops. A spokesman for Japanese headquarters said that apparently none of the city's defenders tried to escape but stubbornly fought on until the last man had been killed. There were reports that General Fu Tso-ji, one of China's most famous soldiers, may have been killed.

"If General Fu Tso-ji's body is found in Taiyuan I will pay deepest respect to his memory," a Japanese spokesman said, "but if he is safe, China will be weak eternally."

JAPAN TO DISCUSS PEACE PROPOSALS

BRUSSELS, Belgium, Nov. 9. — (UP) — Japan may be willing to discuss peace with China through third party mediators, diplomatic sources asserted today, following word from Tokyo that a reply to an invitation to negotiate from the Nine Power conference would be withheld until after Friday. Many delegates among the 19 nations in conference here to promote peace in the Far East believed that the delay indicated that Japan would not flatly refuse the overtures.

Others thought Japan was "talking for time" to enable her armies to continue their gains in China.

Japan has made up her mind as to what course she will pursue, it was indicated in dispatches from Tokyo. An announcement said that the Japanese cabinet was withholding an answer to the Nine Power invitation until after it meets Friday.

Diplomatic indications that Japan might leave the way open for future negotiations heartened delegates. It was said that a conciliatory reply to the 19 nation invitation would give the conference an opportunity to devise new peace proposals and avoid discussion of strong international measures against Japan.

Friend of Wally Granted Divorce

RENO, Nev., Nov. 9. — (UP) — Mrs. Mary Firk Raffray, lifetime friend of the Duchess of Windsor, filed suit for divorce today against Jacques A. L. Raffray, New York insurance broker and former French army officer.

District Judge B. F. Currier will award an uncontested decree shortly after 1:35 p. m. P. S. T. today, and leave her free to marry Ernest Simpson, former husband of the duchess, and Raffray free to marry Mrs. Connie De Bower, who is in Reno awaiting a divorce from Herbert De Bower of New York.

NAZI CHIEF TO PAIR HURT IN SEEK COLONIES TEMPLE BLAST

Hitler is reported to be planning to invite at least three continental rulers to visit Germany — King Boris of Bulgaria, King George of Greece, and Prince-Regent Paul of Yugoslavia. In all these three countries there is highly centralized government power.

ROME, BERLIN AXIS EXTENDED

MUNICH, Nov. 9. — (UP) — Italy's adherence to the German-Japanese anti-Communist alliance has extended the "Rome-Berlin" European axis into a world political triangle, Fuehrer Adolf Hitler said in a speech last night to members of his Nazi "Old Guard."

The speech was made in the Buergerbrau Beer Hall. The occasion was the 14th anniversary of the Munich Putsch in which a few young Nazis tried to seize power. "Germany is no longer isolated," Hitler said to men of his old guard.

"We are all confident that the isolation in which we were held for 15 years is now over—not through meaningless participation in an unimportant League of Nations but through the importance which Germany has again created for herself. From this importance result our new connections. These connections may be incompatible with league ideology. But they are compatible with our interests, and with the interests of nations which have established connections with us."

ACTION AGAINST ALLIANCE SOUGHT

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 9. — (UP) — A defense alliance of the world's democracies against the German-Italian-Japanese anti-Communist bloc was urged today by Sinclair Lewis, novelist and Nobel prize winner.

Warning that the purpose of the three power pact of the Fascist countries was not primarily for defense against Communism but born of a desire to spread Fascism, Lewis said he didn't "see how the United States, Great Britain, France and the Scandinavian countries can avoid forming such a counter-bloc."

"The formation of this Fascist bloc puts it squarely up to the Democratic countries to do something," Lewis said.

"That's not a purely defensive bloc Germany, Italy and Japan have formed. It is nonsense to suppose it is. They've announced openly that they intend to include Portugal, Austria, Yugoslavia and Brazil in their bloc."

The United States "cannot avoid the fact that the formation of this Fascist bloc is a challenge to democracies to fight or else shut up," Lewis said.

HOUSE HUNTING AGAIN

DINUBA, Calif., Nov. 9. — (UP) — The Glenn Bridges family was house hunting today after its fourth consecutive home had burned. A washing machine full of wet clothes was the only thing saved from the last blaze.

CHURCHES RAP RACE BETTING

and Rev. W. H. White, assistant teacher, thanked the chief for "your activities and efforts to suppress any efforts to establish gambling places in Santa Ana."

Efforts Commended

"We highly commend you for your effort to suppress and prevent any kind of games of chance as well as other activities toward depressing the welfare of the community," said the committee report to Chief Howard. "The fundamental objective of government is to foster and develop environment for safety and the welfare of society. When restraint becomes lax, the alluring deception of Satan increases and multitudes rally to his banner."

Last Sunday, the committee's report to Chief Howard was approved by the class as a whole, the class authorizing that the same compliments be directed to council and particularly, Bruns. Bruns recently said he would do all in his power to oust the waging place from the city. His opposition was described as "forceful."

Chiefs Hands Tied

"With an injunction filed against Chief Howard, Sheriff Logan Jackson, District Atty. William Menton, City Atty. Lew Blodgett—against everyone but the president of the nation—by the use of considerable cunning, the chief is battling against operation of the place, with his hands tied," Bruns declared. The injunction requires non-interference with operation of the place at least until Friday morning when a hearing will be conducted before Superior Judge H. G. Ames. Bruns, who said the situation is "deplorable," said he was glad the people approved the chief's efforts to put the place out of the city.

"Even if the place is legal, as it is declared to be by state authorities, we don't want here," the Reverend Mr. Schrock said. "It does not contribute to the welfare of the city. It is a menace economically as persons losing money on the races sometimes are unable to pay merchants what is due. The moral issue is the most important, however, as the wagering offers temptations to young and old alike to spend money to get something which history of racing shows isn't there." The matter was received and filed and ordered acknowledged.

WOULD REQUIRE URBAN AREAS TO CHECK DANGERS

A recommendation that all urban areas in Orange county, especially those in the southern part of the county, be required to reclaim all public waste waters as a measure to protect public health, was embodied in a resolution of the Water Committee of the Orange County Farm Bureau and presented at the annual regional meeting of the board of directors by J. A. Murdy Jr., of Smelter.

In his resolution Murdy stated: "During the last seven years, the Orange County Farm Bureau, on its own behalf and in cooperation with the Board of Supervisors and other interested organizations have been studying the question of sewage reclamation. It is from this study that the following resolution has been prepared."

The resolution follows: "Whereas, large quantities of urban waste waters are now being dumped into the ocean without treatment; and

"Whereas, this practice is creating a public nuisance throughout a considerable area of the rural part of Southern Orange County; and whereas this practice likewise jeopardizes not only the health of bathers along the beaches of Orange County's coastline, but also the general public health of the entire county; and whereas experimental work in Orange County and elsewhere, and recognized practices throughout the world point to the economic feasibility of the reclamation of urban waste waters with full protection to public health,

"Now, Therefore, We call upon the urban areas to meet their responsibilities in these instances, and that we advise them that the Orange County Farm Bureau will give them all reasonable cooperation to this end."

Police News

While Dorothea Mae Gibson, 1111 West Chestnut, was absent from her apartment, according to her report to police, an unidentified man apparently walked into it and helped himself to her purse, containing $1 in cash, cigarette case, lighter, compact, driver's license and numerous other pieces of property. An investigation is being made.

Mrs. W. J. Harper, 914 East Second, told police late yesterday, her car was parked in the front yard recently, unlocked when thieves made off with jelly glasses an 18-day clock and other personal belongings valued at $2.73.

According to report of California highway patrolmen to sheriff's officers yesterday the driver of a large Cadillac sedan which was accidentally backed off a cliff at the old Cliff House, now known as Sea View tavern, escaped without injury Sunday.

Sheriff Logan Jackson was in receipt of "thank you" letters from three Anaheim groups, who declared appreciation for the sheriff's assistance October 29 during the Halloween horse show and parade. Police Chief James S. Bouldin, Anaheim, thanked the sheriff for his men's aid in traffic direction. Other letters came from Ralph Macbeth, chairman of the Anaheim Merchants and Manufacturers association, and Jack Royalty, secretary of the Anaheim Merchants and Manufacturers association.

Ralph Miller, 18, Anaheim, today was serving a five-day jail term after conviction on disturbance of the peace charges. Thomas Vega, 50, El Modena, was booked by Constable George Bartley, Orange, on similar charge.

Mildred Westbrook, 33-year-old waitress, 1731 West Vernon, Los Angeles, who refused to sign her name on the county jail blotter, was brought here by Police Chief James Pearson, Fullerton, and Mrs. Pearson, following arrest on a drunk charge about 1 a. m. today. Judge H. I. Spence set bail at $25.

Police today sought a black and white "Traveler" bicycle stolen from Kenneth Nielsen, 818 Louise, at the high school yesterday noon.

MEDICINE TABLETS PUT FORMER IMBIBER IN JAIL — OUT AGAIN

Struggling successfully to obey Judge Kenneth Morrison's edict that he leave intoxicating liquors alone to avoid going to county jail again, for long terms, Alger "Dolly" Gray, 53, 609 McFadden street, landed there again yesterday but landed right outside again today.

The "in-again-out-again" Santa Ana admitted to the court today he had been staying away from liquor, had been going to church and praying regularly, but that for the past week he has had trouble sleeping—and yesterday took 24 sleeping tablets.

Wobbly in Court Constable Charles Mitchell, called to a place near Gray's home, found him "passed out" under influence of the medicine. He was still wobbly and yawning in court today.

"It is of much pleasure to me to hear that you are staying away from liquor," Judge Morrison said today. "A doctor reported you were. However, I would suggest that you use the medicine as sparingly as possible with the idea of stopping its use as soon as possible. A little setting up exercise just before retiring, will help—I know because I was in bed for two months recently."

Gray explained that complaints of his mother, with whom he lives, that he disturbs her when she retires early, and then he can't sleep. In county jail for Christ-masses, year after year, Gray was allowed to go on probation when he explained he'd just served 16 of the last 18 months and would not only refrain from use of intoxicants but would go to church regularly.

COUNTY ORDERS STRONGBOX

A new strongbox for the county clerk's office, to hold checks, bonds and other valuables coming officially into the clerk's possession, was authorized by the county supervisors today after County Treasurer T. E. Stephenson suggested a change of long-standing practice, by which such property has been left with the treasurer.

Stephenson explained that the practice has been unofficial, and that there has been no record kept of such property, and no receipt issued for it; he felt that a better system should be adopted. If he was to continue receiving such

RIVERSIDE TO SECURE SECOND UNIT OF FIRM

Location of a second unit of the Food Machinery Corporation in Santa Ana faded today with the announcement that the company will construct a $100,000 plant in Riverside.

More than a year ago when the Food Machinery Corporation took over the Paxton Nailing Machine company of this city, officials of the company indicated that it was more than probable that the citrus machine division would be removed from Riverside and consolidated with the local plant.

Hale Paxton, manager of the Santa Ana plant, said today that the company had definitely decided not to consolidate the two units and had already completed plans for construction of a new building in Riverside.

The nailing machine division, however, will not be moved from Santa Ana despite rumors that it would be consolidated with the citrus machine plant.

At present the Santa Ana unit is employing approximately 125 men in the factory. During the peak of the season more than 200 were employed.

Space Here Doubled At the time the Food Machinery Corporation took over the Santa Ana plant, a new addition was made on the old plant, approximately doubling the size of the factory.

ROUT THAT COLD

Let It Not Hang on Thru the Use of Half-way Measures!

Beware of the "common cold!" The common cold, doctors will tell you, is the cause of more serious trouble than anything else. Many a person who is in a pneumonia jacket today had but a "common cold" yesterday!

Take No Chances! Neglect no cold. Take no chances with your treatment. Treat a cold with a cold medicine, not a "cure-all." Treat it also with internal medicine. A cold is an internal infection.

Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine (LBQ tablets) are what you want for a cold. They are, first of all, a cold tablet, made expressly for colds. Secondly, they are internal medication, fourfold in effect.

Fourfold Effect! First, they open the bowels. Second, they check the infection in the system. Third, they relieve the headache and fever.

Fourth, they tone the system and help fortify against further attack. Bromo Quinine tablets now come sugar-coated as well as plain. Both kinds are sold by all druggists, a few cents a box.

When you feel a cold coming on, trust to no makeshift methods. Adopt the proven course of safety—take Bromo Quinine.

Taken promptly, these tablets will often break up a cold in 24 hours and that's the speed you want.

Act Promptly! Bromo Quinine tablets may be taken with confidence. The fact that they have been in use for over 40 years and are the world's largest-selling cold tablet is your assurance of dependability.

RANCHES TO GET AID FOR RIVER FLOOD PROJECT

Members of the board of supervisors agreed today to provide temporary flood protection for ranches shut off by the Santa Ana river between the Yuma and Jefferson bridges. Under the plan presented to the board by Paul Muench, representing the ranchers, the property owners will provide the necessary material, including cables, trees and brush to protect the levees if the county supplies the labor and supervises the work. Total cost of the protective work will be approximately $1000.

Area Inspected
Muench said that during the high water last year more than 1000 feet of dike washed out allowing flood waters to rush over adjoining property. He pointed out that the protective work can be done much cheaper at this time when there is no water in the river bed than when the flood waters are coming down.

Flood Control Engineer M. N. Thompson said he had inspected the area and recommended that the plan be approved.

Emergency Allocation
Decision to do the work was made on motion of Supervisor Harry Riley, with funds to be taken from the emergency allocation of the general fund.

Before a vote was taken on Riley's motion, Supervisor N. E. West suggested taking the money from the flood control fund and saving the emergency fund for use on other protective work. He pointed out that two serious menaces exist in Trabuco canyon. These menaces, he pointed out, will have to be eliminated this year and will cost between $4000 and $5000.

$200 EMERGENCY FUND SET ASIDE

Asking for $500 Supervisor Steele Finley succeeded today in having $200 placed in the petty cash fund of the county welfare director for use in emergency cases.

This fund, Finley said, is expended for relief of persons who are without food and pending action on their requests for relief and to purchase railroad tickets for deportees from the nation.

The fund was cut at the request of Supervisors N. E. West and Harry Riley who suggested that $200 be set aside at this time and a later appropriation made if and when needed.

Riley questioned the need for the fund and asked why the cash is necessary when the welfare department issues food orders and requisitions for other necessities.

"Mr. Riley," Finley said, "this money is used to provide food for needy people who might get hungry before the board acts on their requests for relief."

Bids Opened For Flood Area Wells

Bids on the contract for drilling three wells for the county flood control district, in the West Street conservation basin, at West street and Chapman avenue, were opened by the county supervisors today and referred to Flood Control Engineer M. N. Thompson for classification. Thompson was scheduled to report back to the board late today.

Charles Wilson, Walter O. Hill and Roscoe Moss were the bidders.

LAUNCH DRIVE AGAINST LIQUOR ISSUED BY FOR

BERKELEY, Nov. 9.—(UP)—California legislators "are bought and sold like merchandise by a liquor lobby," Dr. Gail Cleland, pastor of the Alameda Congregational church, said last night in an address before 275 representatives of 62 churches of San Francisco and other bay cities.

The meeting opened a "war on liquor traffic" in California by churches which have a membership of more than 17,000.

"The California legislature has been corrupted by liquor interests," Dr. Cleland said.

Approximately 21 per cent of the 2838 automobile fatalities in California in 1936 were either drivers or pedestrians who were drinking before they were killed, he said.

Start Campaign
The delegates resolved to campaign throughout the state to have three propositions attacking the liquor traffic placed on next year's ballots. The propositions were: Curtailment of liquor advertising and display; making the liquor traffic bear some of its own burden by a special tax, money from which would be used for hospitalization of the victims of drunken drivers and for payment of damage caused by crashes in which drunken driver were implicated; establishment of a dry bone 200 yards from every public school and playground.

Dr. Stanley A. Hunter of Berkeley and Dr. John Timothy Stone, Presbyterian leader from Chicago, also addressed the meeting.

ELIMINATION OF ERRORS SOUGHT

Supervisor N. E. West today demanded an investigation of clerical and other errors that have resulted in approximately 12 requests for cancellation of assessments on personal and real property.

West said that the investigation would not be so much for the purpose of fixing the blame for the errors as it would be to devise some method of preventing them. He said that while 12 taxpayers had discovered duplications and other errors in assessing their property, he is of the opinion that there are scores of such errors committed every year that are not discovered.

"These taxes are paid erroneously and the error never discovered. My idea is to protect the taxpayer from such errors."

At the same time he asked for the investigation West moved to grant the requests for cancellation of assessments.

No official action was taken on the request for a probe.

RANGE PROGRAM IS GIVEN U. S. APPROVAL

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—(UP)—The department of agriculture broadened its 1938 range conservation program today to increase payments to western cattlemen.

The program, applicable to range land of 17 western states at an estimated cost of $11,000,000, was approved by Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace.

Under the new plan ranchers may earn payments for improving or conserving range land, especially where severe droughts have increased soil depletion.

The program provides a combined allotment for acreage and carrying capacity of the range, with benefits to South Dakota, Nebraska, Texas and Oklahoma, which receive no appropriations under the 1937 plan that extended only to states of the AAA western region.

HOLLYWOOD STUDIO STRIKE IS ENDED

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 9.—(UP)—Employees of Columbia Motion Picture Studios, who struck yesterday over a dispute over employment in the make-up department, returned to work today after an agreement was reached last night between union officials and studio officers.

The strike was estimated to have cost the studio between $5,000 and $6,000 an hour.

Terms of the agreement were said to include additional personnel for the make-up and hair-dressing departments.

POLICE SEEKING "SIGN" VENDOR

An asserted "high pressure" private detective who has appeared several times in Orange county during the past six or eight weeks, asking residents to buy signs, announcing their places are protected by the detective, was sought by Sheriff Logan Jackson today for questioning.

The man, who has appeared here with badge, uniform and other purchased credentials, the sheriff said, gave the name of "Si Darling, private detective of Los Angeles." He wished residents to buy and post a sign reading, "This place is protected by Si Darling, detective agency," or similar sign.

"He dickers with those he contacts and if they refuse to buy a sign for $8 or $5 or some such figure, he offers the 'protection service' sign for $3 or $2," the sheriff pointed out. "He has told some residents that if they didn't, they needn't be surprised if their turkeys or chickens are stolen, I am informed."

Most of the visits have been made to homes of the Garden Grove, Westminster and Wintersburg areas, according to Deputy Sheriff G. P. McKelvey, who was investigating further today. He reported several women have been frightened by the man.

LABOR FACTIONS IN ACCORD AT CONCLAVE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—(UP)—Tentative agreement on apportionment of 16 industries between the Committee for Industrial Organization and the American Federation of Labor was reported today as peace conferences resumed.

A member of the 10 man C.I.O. delegation said mutual understanding has apparently been reached concerning union demarcation in approximately 16 fields. He believed definite agreement could be ratified easily.

Other industries, listed by conference as between four and nine in number, presented added difficulties because of unionization by both groups in the same field.

TWO SPRAYERS ARE FINED BY JUDGE KUCHEL

Found guilty of conducting a spraying business without either a sprayer's license from the county clerk or a certificate of qualification from the agricultural commissioner, John C. Dodrill, of Puente, and his foreman, Chester Collier, were fined $100 each yesterday by Justice Charles Kuchel, of Anaheim.

2 Violations Charged
Complaint was made against the pair by Agricultural Inspector Witherow, who charged two counts of violating the regulations governing pest control operators.

When Witherow first investigated the operations of Dodrill and Collier, he stated, Collier told him the spray rig was rented and the crew hired directly by the grove owner. Inquiry was then made of the owner, a resident of Los Angeles county, who replied that the spraying was being done by contract, which made the operators subject to the state regulations. These regulations are devised to prevent faulty or careless application of spray to trees, Commissioner D. W. Tubbs pointed out today.

Must Notify Office
Operators may deviate from these regulations only when specifically authorized in writing by the proprietor or his agent, on forms supplied by the agricultural commissioner having jurisdiction, said Tubbs. In no case, however, may operators deviate from the requirement of notifying the commissioner's office when work is to be done, if poisonous materials are to be applied, and reporting all such work to the agricultural commissioner the first of each month. In the case of Dodrill and Collier, the court suspended $75 of each fine for one year.

The widow lives in Colorado Springs and the two brothers in Missouri.

SANTA ANA WOMAN RECEIVES LIFE MEMBERSHIP IN Y. W. C. A.

Tribute to the work accomplished in China by pioneer Y.W.C.A. workers was paid last night when the local Y.W. board held an open meeting in the association rooms by way of complimenting the guest speaker, Mrs. D. Willard Lyons of Claremont.

Santa Ana Y. W. took this opportunity to present a life membership in the association to Mrs. Francis H. Warton of this city, only living sister of the late Grace Copick, pioneer Y. W. C. A. worker in the Orient.

Difficulties Cited
The speaker of the evening, Mrs. Lyons was a member of the first board of directors for women's work in China. She told of problems confronting Y. W. C. A. workers in the Orient. She pointed out that theoretically women in China have equal rights with men, but in reality there are many difficulties to overcome.

Work of the Y. W. in the interests of education for the masses, and in striving for legislation of importance to the Chinese woman, was explained. "Women's Place in China Today" was Mrs. Lyons' topic.

Change Meeting
Mrs. Edith Thatcher, world fellowship chairman, who introduced the speaker, gave an interpretation of the world's work of the Y. W. Originally scheduled to be held in China, the 1938 Y. W. C. A. World's Council meeting undoubtedly will take place in some other country, which has not been named, it was pointed out.

The open meeting followed a dinner shared by Mrs. Lyons and a little group of Y. W. members.

SURVEY HOLDS 86.5 PER CENT STAYS IN CITY

Although 43 cents of every tax dollar collected directly from Santa Ana taxpayers goes for support of public schools, Santa Ana received from the schools, in direct local expenditures, more than double the amount it pays out in direct taxes.

This was set forth in a survey prepared by School Auditor Harold Yost and presented to the board of education last night, covering 1936-37 statistics, as a fair sample of an average year, not affected by either depression or boom.

Yost's survey shows that of the $335,038.92 collected in direct taxes, and $430,567.44 received from the state as sales tax and other indirect taxes, making a grand total of $817,906.55, $6.5 per cent, or $53,118.76, is spent directly in Santa Ana. The other 13.5 per cent, $46,992.39, in capital outlay, not included in the survey.

Thus, the survey showed, Santa Ana paid $335,038.92 directly in taxes and received $501,220.95 directly in taxes and received $501,220.95 directly, a favorable balance of $166,182.03 for the city.

That said Yost, answers the question whether taxes paid for the schools is "gone forever" from the community.

For 1937-38, he estimated, the city will pay directly about $371,200 in taxes and receive directly about $767,410 in expenditures, a favorable balance of $396,210.

Not counting cafeteria purchases, the school expenditures in Santa Ana include $91,608.49 that goes for the butcher, the baker, the candlestick maker; lawyer, doctor, merchant and—no, not thief—the utilities, insurance, rent laundry, ranch work, seed, and a host of other supplies and services.

Yost's survey gives detailed statistics of how the tax money is paid out and how it comes back into local circulation.

Of the $831,332.10 paid in taxes, $531,535.53 went to teachers salaries; $489,169.53 of it was spent in Santa Ana and $45,366 spent outside.

Non-certificated employees of the schools received $39,929.43 in salaries, of which $55,397.43 represented capital outlay.

FILES SUIT TO FORECLOSE ON "600 THANKSGIVING DINNERS"

Fred Utterback yesterday filed a timely mortgage foreclosure suit, to get 600 Thanksgiving dinners, at $4 per meal. With Thanksgiving in the offing, he filed suit in superior court to foreclose a chattel mortgage upon 600 turkeys.

When William and Louise Mang, of Encinitas, between Anaheim and Fullerton, gave their note for $2021.95 to M. E. Earhart September 29, for a 90-day loan, they secured it with a mortgage on the 300 hen turkeys and 300 toms.

Note Is Assigned
The interest was payable monthly, at 6 per cent. If any interest payment went delinquent, the whole amount of the note became immediately due, according to the suit just filed.

Earhart assigned the note to Utterback. The first monthly payment of interest was not met, Utterback charges, so he went to court to claim the 600 Thanksgiving dinners.

Counting the principal and interest and costs of suit, they'll represent about $4 per dinner.

The Rev. O. Scott McFarland, president of the Santa Ana Ministerial Association, will be chairman at the Armistice Peace meeting to be held at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday in the high school auditorium.

The Rev. Mr. McFarland said today that he is looking forward with pleasure to this meeting as he will introduce Dr. John W. Darr, the speaker, and a college friend and fraternity brother of his, Dr. McFarland and Dr. Darr, who now is a member of the faculty at Scripps College, Claremont, were roommates at Ohio Wesleyan University.

The address by Dr. Darr will be preceded by a 15-minute concert by the Women's Glee Club of Pomona College. Santa Ana Junior college students will serve as ushers at the meeting which is being sponsored by the ministerial association.

Part-time teachers were paid $14,346.35 and turned $12,910.89 back into circulation here, with $1,435.46 going outside.

Temporary and student help received $12,094.41, of which $11,592.41 was expended here, $500 being spent outside.

Purchases, repairs and public utilities represented $130,019.99, of which $91,608.49 was expended in Santa Ana and $38,411.50 outside.

The teachers' retirement contribution of $3414 went outside. The street assessment money, $954.34, $4,164 for retirement of the Greene Bill loan, and $31,574.05 for other construction expenses, represent capital outlay.

REV. TIPTON IS NAMED TO LEAD CHURCH STUDY

Selection of the Rev. Walter Tipton as director of Christian education at Spurgeon Memorial Methodist church, was announced today, following a meeting of the church board of stewards last night, when the selection was made.

The Rev. Mr. Tipton will enter upon his duties at once, it was stated.

The board of stewards also set Tuesday night, November 16, as the date for the fall fellowship Thanksgiving dinner and reception for the pastor, Dr. C. M. Aker and wife, and the new director and his wife.

It will be a potluck dinner, served in the dining room at 6:30, and will be followed by a program of music and talks, with an informal reception for all officers, teachers and patrons of the Sunday school and their families.

The event will mark the beginning of the Childhood and Youth week set apart as an annual affair throughout the Southern Methodist churches.

Big 'Mums' To Go On Sale As Pretty Co-eds Wait Game
What is a football game without a chrysanthemum?

At least that is the mental attitude of every pretty co-ed that ever rooted for the home squad. So in order to satisfy that inner longing, Junior College Patrons' association plans to have the most glorious of fluffy big 'mums' on sale Thursday night when the Citrus-Jayses game opens at Municipal Bowl.

Each girls' service club of the Jaycee campus is co-operating in the plan, and will be represented by its president and one other member, in making sales just at the entrance to the bowl. Mrs. Howard Timmons, chairman of the ways and means committee of the College Patrons' association, has ordered several thousand of the blooms in readiness for the sale.

Those who are scheduled to take part in the demonstration include B. A. Hensley, head of the city's motor patrol; Officers Chet Gross, William Nielsen and Burdette Lane and Sergeant J. F.

Legion Post Will Meet Wednesday

Santa Ana Legion post will meet Wednesday night at 8 o'clock instead of Thursday because of the Armistice day holiday, according to announcement today by Commander Art Eklund. The program will include numbers by the La Hacienda entertainers and G. Morin, banjo player.

Local Legionnaires will meet at Commonwealth and Yale, Fullerton, at 10:45 a. m. Thursday to take part in the Armistice day parade. They are requested to be attired in dark trousers, white shirts, dark ties and their Legion caps.

FOUR CITIES APPROVE AID FOR CRIPPLES

S. A. EDUCATORS JOIN IN SHARING OUTLAY OF $800

Participation in a joint program with Orange, Anaheim and Fullerton school districts, for rehabilitation of physically handicapped persons of 16 years and older, under federal auspices, was approved by the Santa Ana board of education last night.

An $800 appropriation, shared equally by the four districts, and matched with the equal appropriation of federal money, is proposed to carry the program through the present fiscal year, starting about January 1.

Coordinator To Plan
The Santa Ana board gave its approval to a motion by Ridley Smith, contingent upon approval by the other districts. Under the plan, a federal coordinator would be assigned to administer the work in the four districts, paid by the joint appropriation. Other expenses of the work would be borne by the federal government.

W. E. Smith, district supervisor from the federal bureau of vocational rehabilitation, which proposed the program, appeared before the board last night and explained the plan. A full year's work, he said, would cost each district $400.

Examples of Work
Training is supplied in various classifications, including bedside and hospital training, and home training. The physically handicapped are thus prepared for maintaining themselves in various lines of work, he said. The bureau, said Smith, has rehabilitated 15,000 persons in California and is operating in 46 states, the District of Columbia, Hawaii and Porto Rico.

Locally, as examples of its work, handicapped persons have been trained as a packing house foreman, auto painter, sign painter, millman and estimator, watch repairman, electric machine repairman, shoe repairman, radio repairman, besides filling various trade jobs.

The program, said Smith, is growing more than half as many being rehabilitated in this state last year than in the previous ten years combined. Of those rehabilitated, 63 per cent had been on public relief.

210 Children
In Santa Ana, said Smith, a WPA survey shows that there are 210 physically handicapped children in grades 1 to 8, and 100 in grades 9 to 14 (including junior college). Four local teachers now are assigned to the younger group, and

Indians Reaping Salmon Harvest At Celilo Falls

Here, at the "Happy Fishing Grounds," Celilo Falls, Indians of the Pacific Northwest are daily reaping a harvest of salmon that have breasted the mighty Columbia River on migrations upstream to spawning grounds. No white man may fish at Celilo—the Indians having exclusive treaty rights with Uncle Sam. Approximately 100 tons of fish are taken daily.

BAND CONCERT TO BE GIVEN TOMORROW

The regular weekly concert by the Federal Music Project Band will again be performed at Birch Park at 2 p. m. tomorrow.

Eddie Klein, bandmaster, will be absent from his usual post owing to illness. Dale Porter, principal flutist with the unit, has been appointed to conduct the concert during Klein's absence, project officials stated.

An entertaining program is announced for tomorrow's performance which will open with selections from the march compositions of Sousa, proceeding with "Die Fledermaus," (The Bat), by Strauss and "Down South," an album of American sketches which are strongly imbued with old-time "cake walk" characteristics. Other selections are "Homeless," a romance by Arthur and "Gold and Silver," waltz numbers from Prim's light opera, Katinka.

An arrangement of the march, "Rakoczy," by Boettger, will bring the concert to a close.

The vocational coordinator would work with the older group.

The local district would be reimbursed for its expenditure by an allowance from the state for average daily attendance for the handicapped cases, Smith pointed out.

Adult Education News

Dr. Frank C. Davis, Department of Psychology at U. C. L. A. was well received by an enthusiastic audience last Thursday evening when he presented his first lecture of a series on Social Psychology. He will give a second lecture on the same subject Thursday evening, November 18, at 7:30 p. m. in the Willard auditorium. Any one interested is invited to attend.

W. W. Wieman, Principal of the Lathrop Evening High school and Golden Weston, Principal of Willard Evening High school are driving to Fresno this week end to attend a meeting of Adult Education Principals. Mr. and Mrs. Wieman will make the trip with the John L. Mitchells of Garden Grove and Mrs. Weston will be accompanied by Frances Heil, art instructor of the Orange Union High school.

Mrs. Palmer reports that one of her students is making a tailored suit, and another is making a coat for her little child. Perhaps some of your friends would like to have Mrs. Palmer's assistance.

The Parent Education series under the direction of Miss Nell Hunt is being well attended. The Franklin district has been learning a great deal about Food Values while the Wilson and Jefferson schools have joined their interests and are discussing Interior Decoration as it affects the child. John Muir and Roosevelt schools will open their series next Friday morning, November 12, at 9:00 a. m. in the Roosevelt building, 218 E. 1st street with an informal discussion of Parent-Child Relationship. Other topics to be discussed will be decided upon by the group.

Boos Wanted! Some weeks ago the Pep News published an appeal for some English books. There was a generous response but the class still needs three or four copies of Daily Drills for Better English. If you know where one of these books can be bought or borrowed, members of this class will appreciate it deeply.

The class in architectural drawing is fortunate in having Robert Horn, teacher at the Willard Junior High School, as a member. While the class is taking up the preliminaries Horn is generously devoting his time to assisting the beginners.

Red, blue, purple slacks — any color slacks are the thing to wear in the first aid class. While half the semester is gone, Mr. McWilliams says that new members can enroll and still have time to secure their standard certificate.

Dr. Mason finishes his series of discussions Monday. He will be followed by Dr. Robert G. Cleland of Occidental College on Nov. 15 and 22. Dr. Cleland's subject is Mexico. His specific topics will be announced in the press.

Don't forget that no classes will

BETTER LIGHTS FOR SAFETY IN DRIVING URGED

"Announcement that the Automobile Manufacturers' Association is marshalling all its forces in a nation-wide program to reduce the number of motor car accidents resulting from faulty lights reveals the fact that the average motorist does not realize when his lighting equipment loses its efficiency."

So says L. M. Forcey of the Forcey's Automobile Service company. "The decrease in the effectiveness of the headlights with which a new car is equipped is so gradual that the average driver does not sense it at all," says Forcey. "The result is that he gives no thought to his headlights so long as they are burning, or until a mishap damages them. Meanwhile normal use of lights, the effect of weather, road dust and minor bumps destroy their efficiency and put the light beam out of proper trim, leaving the driver very poor road illumination at night for traveling at even a moderate rate of speed."

Check Headlamps
"Headlamps should be checked and serviced regularly just as any other working part of a motor car. Tarnished reflectors, blackened bulbs, dirty or cracked lenses, and lamps out of adjustment, are a constant menace to safe night driving. A trained lighting mechanic with the proper test equipment and lamp service information can restore the full original lighting efficiency at a very modest cost. This 'safety' lighting service is now available to all motorists."

DR. TAFT TO SPEAK

Dr. Clinton J. Taft, who speaks for the Citizen's Forum at the Unitarian church this evening, is a native of New York state and a graduate of Keuka university. His doctorate in philosophy he received from Syracuse university. For most of his active life he was a Congregational minister, serving churches in New York state, Boston and Los Angeles. His pastorate over the Plymouth Congregational church in Los Angeles he gave up to assume the duties of director for the American Civil Liberties Union of Southern California, when it was founded in 1923.

Franklin Mothers To Meet Tomorrow

Mothers of the "study group" of the Franklin school will meet at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday in the kindergarten room of the Franklin school.

Civil Service In Los Angeles To Be Related In Speech

How has civil service worked in the law enforcement service of Los Angeles?

Santa Ana residents, who will vote a week from today on the proposal for civil service in the Santa Ana police and fire departments, will learn of the experience of the Los Angeles sheriff's office with civil service tomorrow evening, when Dr. F. W. Emmerson, personal representative of Sheriff Eugene Biscailuz, delivers a radio address here.

Dr. Emmerson has been public relations counsel in the Los Angeles sheriff's office for the last seven years. In his address over a local radio station at 8:30 Wednesday evening, he will detail the results and effect of civil service upon the operation of his department.

PROCLAMATION

A problem that calls for the attention of every patriotic citizen has been created with the development of motor transportation in America. It is the appalling death toll caused by reckless, fast or drunken driving. Almost 38,000 persons were killed in the United States last year.

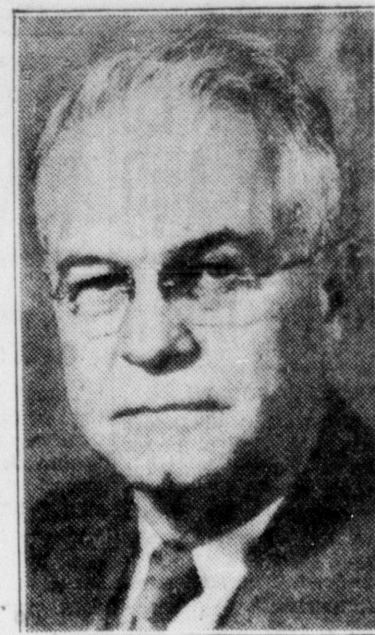

The Santa Ana Lodge, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, has joined the Grand Lodge in a nation-wide campaign to reduce the number of deaths and accidents by automobile. The Santa Ana Lodge urges you to assist it in eliminating these hazards as well as give it and the local judiciary the power to erase the factors which are conducive to automobile accidents in our community.

The week of November 8 to 13 has been designated as Elks Safety Campaign Week.

Therefore, I, Fred C. Rowland, Mayor of the City of Santa Ana, do hereby proclaim the week of November 8 to 13, inclusive, Elks Safety Campaign Week and urge the citizens of Santa Ana to join the members of Santa Ana Lodge, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, in its efforts to eliminate traffic hazards and ticket "fixing."

Signed this Ninth Day of November, A. D., 1937.

FRED C. ROWLAND, Mayor.

Following Program Open to Public

Ivan Kelso, chief counsel for the Automobile Club of Southern California, is scheduled to be the featured speaker at the Elks' club traffic safety meeting, 8 p. m. tonight, according to Elmer Heidt, manager of the automobile club, here, today.

Kelso, counsel for the automobile club for 22 or 23 years, is an excellent speaker and knows his subject well. He has visited both Sacramento and Washington, D. C., in connection with traffic safety legislation.

The meeting, open to the public, at the Elks' lodge, will be held in connection with Elks' National Safety Week.

Kelso's subject, "Safe Driving," will include discussion of phases of automobile operation; road construction; grade separations as a matter of safety; proper lighting, and defective brakes for cars, and drivers' operating licenses, Heidt said.

Included on the program, when Ivan Kelso, chief counsel for the Automobile Club of Southern California, speaks on "Safe Driving," will be a 20-minute American Red Cross first aid demonstration by the Santa Ana police department, according to plans of Police Chief Floyd W. Howard.

Those who will participate in the demonstration include: Lieutenant B. A. Hershey, head of the motor patrol; Officers Chet Gross, William Nielsen and Burnette Lane, and Sergeant J. F. McWilliams, first aid instructor of the police department.

Depends on Your Lights!

Investigation of automobile accidents by safety organizations shows that accidents during the hours of darkness are more serious than those occurring during the daytime. This is due to the fact that cars at night are driven too fast for the range of visibility afforded by improperly adjusted headlamps, and because many automobile lamps are not properly adjusted so as to make objects plainly visible at night. The Latest Chicago Fire

Bill DeCorvont, shown breaking with the ball, perhaps the most besieged high school football player in the country. Playing with Austin High, DeCorvont has broken all Chicago high school scoring records and is a remarkable punter and passer. He is 17 years old, weighs 172 pounds, and stands just under six feet. Bill Heiland is his third high school coach, and the third to call him the greatest high school player he's ever seen. The youngster also is considered an excellent major league baseball prospect.

Zuppke Still Going Strong At Illinois

BY STEVE SNIDER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

CHICAGO — Bob Zuppke was a bustling high school coach traveling among Illinois when he showed up at Illinois 25 years ago with a flock of new ideas on how to win Big Ten football championships and he's been a step ahead of the pack ever since.

This is Zup's silver jubilee year at Illinois. Somewhere along the way, he invented the huddle, the flea flicker and flying trap, and he rode the crest with the fleetest Galloping Ghost — Harold (Red) Grange; grew famous for his upset victories, and in 1934 nursed within one game of the conference title 11 little iron men who were so small, any other big time coach might have laughed them off the field when they first reported for practice.

Zup's 25th season already is a rousing success—with one major victory, a tie and two defeats.

His plucky Illini, described by Zup himself as a team "with two lines and half a backfield," weren't given a chance against a Notre Dame squad touted as the coming National champions, but they held the Irish to a scoreless tie.

Only Saturday, he pulled another game out of his hat by defeating Northwestern's Big Ten champions who were on the upgrade after losing to Ohio State.

In the Northwestern game, he had to devise a defense strong enough to hold the Wildcats scoreless while his backs played for the breaks and a touchdown. He stopped

STANFORD UNIVERSITY — Stanford's football squad launched heavy work for its game with Washington State Saturday with three varsity men nursing injuries. COURT RULING LIFTS BAN ON TOM CARROLL

LOS ANGELES — Norman W. Church, wealthy race horse breeder, today announced that his attorney, Senator Burton K. Wheeler, will file a damage action against the state racing board and Carleton Burke, chairman.

Church said the suit would be for the purpose of allowing "Burke to have his day in court."

The proposed suit is the outgrowth of a victory Church won in the Sacramento county superior court in having his second trainer, Thomas J. Carroll, reinstated and the suspension against him removed entirely from the racing records.

"The whole affair was ridiculous from the start," Church said. "It was in fact symbolic of the way racing in this state is being conducted under the domination of Carleton Burke. If we get him into court, we will give him a chance to explain a few things."

Carroll was suspended by the commission on charges of doping the fourth race on the Santa Anita track program last New Year's Day.

In addition to lifting the suspension, Judge Peter Shields ordered Carroll's license restored. Deputy Attorney General Ralph H. Cowing said the decision would be appealed.

Carroll was suspended by Santa Anita stewards after investigation of the race. The commission sustained the suspension.

Church fought the commission's action in superior court in Sacramento, retaining a battery of leading attorneys, including U. S. Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana, to defend his trainer.

Judge Shields observed the state's racing law specifies licenses should be issued annually. Investigation shall not be made "without just cause," he pointed out.

"At the hearing of this proceeding, counsel for the respondent (The commission) did not attempt to contend that the words 'for just cause' had no meaning. His contention was that if the board had what it thought was a good cause, founded upon a one-sided investigation of a charge, that was sufficient ground upon which to convict one who might have been wholly unconscious that any charge had been made against him. This seems to be a crude conception of justice."

BEARS NOW FOURTH ON HOULGATE LIST

LOS ANGELES — Pittsburgh's football juggernaut was leading a mythical National championship race today for the third consecutive week in a listing compiled by Deke Houlgate, Pacific Coast statistician.

The Panthers' lead over Alabama, runner-up, increased, while Yale, moved up to replace California in third position. Houlgate gave Pitt 31.5 points, Alabama 27, Yale 26.7 and the Golden Bears 24.

Other ranking teams were Duke, fifth; Nebraska sixth; Dartmouth and Villanova tied for seventh; North Carolina ninth, and Louisiana State and Vanderbilt tied for 10th.

Santa Clara, ranked 13th, topped all Pacific Coast teams outside California, and Montana rose to 18th place. Stanford, 193d in the second week of the season, held a tie for 37th.

Other coast teams were St. Mary's 21st; Oregon State 46th; Washington State 47th; Southern California 58th; San Francisco 59th; Oregon 76th; Gonzaga 79th; U. C. L. A. 80th, and Loyola tied for 102nd. Houlgate listed 107 teams.

O.C.A.C. BREAKS WITH DARO; NEW WRESTLERS COMING

The break is on the level. The story was uncovered AFTER last night's show. The announcement of a change in nights was given AFTER the principals were in the ring for the main event. Probably there was a reason for that, too. One of the trained elephants might have gone berserk had the announcement been "premature;" one of 'em even might have preferred not to wrestle or somethin'.

Reasons for public consumption only is that the head office consistently refused to "co-operate" with Promoter Sampson and Matchmaker Clinton.

The Orange County Athletic club is "go in" Hollywood.

There will be brand new touch to the weekly argosy of agony. Instead of the Parellis, the Youisifs, the Lutzes, the Coleman, the Szabos and their ilk, Messrs. Sampson and Clinton will present grapplers of the Hollywood branch.

Head men will be "Lord" Lansdowne, Yukon Jake, Hugh Nichols, Leroy McGuirk, Monty LaDue, "Dangerous" Dan McShane, Wild Red Berry, Johnny LaRue, Zibby Zyzsko, Danny Savich and The Mat Dragon. The same music but with different words, so to speak.

Not knowing I couldn't say, but they tell me the Hollywood clan wrestles better and double-crosses less. Mostly younger men, the new troupe runs to speed rather than tricks, class before clatter.

The Orange County Athletic club has long threatened to break the chains that welded it to the Brothers Daro, mighty inahouts of the mat. There was a time a year ago that such an announcement was actually made; but not carried out. As I understood it later, that was merely a threat to disquiet the Brothers Daro, and it worked—for a spell.

This time the O. C. A. C. preferred to work without words, meaning it was a "shooting match."

Elsewhere in this section is the story that big "Rusty" Roquet, Don tackle, is going to get a chance in the jaysee backfield against Citrus.

Working in the backfield isn't exactly new to the Anaheim monster.

For two years, "Rusty" has been playing in the enemy's backfield.

names as Rabbit's Ears, Troublesome, and Toeole, doesn't lessen the surprise of suddenly finding oneself in the midst of howling thousands who show all the symptoms of gridiron dementia.

Salt Lake City offered the technically correct football scene. There were just the proper and official number of rosters who had looked on the grape at its fermented best—worst. And they bellowed just the proper unintelligible noises. The hotel lobbies were jammed just to the proper sidewalks and streets were beautifully un navigable. The correct number of shop windows were soaped with "Beat Colorado" and "Bust 'Em Redskins," and the ticket scalpers whispered their wares in faultless out-of-the-corner-of-the-kisser manner.

And, from what I can learn, the football is the same. I mean the boys out here play the game just as well and just as vigorously as they do in the more highly publicized areas. It has long been a habit of the press box pedants, when it came time to name the All-America players, and nominate the various teams for the various bowls, to make a non-point of the proper Big Ten right on to the Pacific Coast, thus completely ignoring the Rocky Mountain conference.

This is a mistake, and you need only to make a quick study of the roster of the professional teams to be convinced. Headed by the one and only "Dutch" Clark, the Rocky Mountain district has no fewer than fifteen or twenty players performing, and performing well, in the toughest football league of them all. There are Frank Christiansen, Jack Johnson, George Grosvenor, Del Rittchert and Beryl Rose, to name a few. They came from Utah, Colorado U., Colorado College, Utah State and Greeley Teachers, and other schools not so well known in football circles.

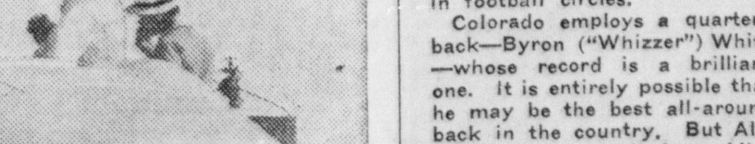

Colorado employs a quarterback—Byron ("Whizzer") White—whose record is a brilliant one. It is entirely possible that he may be the best all-around back in the country. But All-Americas are made by publicity and Colorado's publicity budget for all sports, from swimming to track, is $700 a year. I can name you a dozen schools who spend that much each year on imported cigarettes for their publicity men.

COUNCIL PLANS TO GRANT FLOOD PROTECTION

J. C. STUDENT BODY PUTS $1,500 IN CASH "OUT TO EARN ITS WAY"

Santa Ana Junior College's student body put $1500 of its spare cash out at hire today.

The Santa Ana board of education raised no objection when the proposal to transfer the $1500 from the student fund to the Orange County Teachers Credit Union, for borrowing purposes, was presented.

Loans To Teachers

The board has no responsibility for the fund, other than an advisory capacity. Board members said they believed the move was wise.

The credit union will loan the money to teachers of the county at six per cent interest. Loans up to $100 are made without security; beyond that figure collateral is required.

With receipts from recent football games swelling its fund beyond current needs, the Don authorities felt that the excess cash might as well be working for the fund.

SPECIAL GROUP TO STUDY CREEK BANK PROJECT

City council in regular session last night promised immediate attention to pleas of property owners adjacent to Santiago Creek, between Riverside Drive and the stream, for protection against flood dangers.

The action was taken after a long and argumentative discussion in which motions were made, tossed about and discarded in favor of new ones.

Seek Permanency

The motion which finally received unanimous approval was that of Councilman Plummer, asking that a letter from property owners be referred to committee, given immediate study so that temporary protection can be offered for the winter months and that study be made regarding permanent protection.

Brund's motion also included provision that Mayor Fred C. Rowland, at his discretion, might appoint additional members on a study committee which now includes Councilman Ernest Layton officially, City Engineer J. L. McBride and City Atty. Lew Blodgett, informally.

Warning Given

A letter from property owners living adjacent to the creek and which included names of George Matzen, George C. Perkins, Hale Paxton, G. R. Nelson, H. R. McBride, A. W. Rutan and H. J. Miller "warned" council that, should the city construct anything which might result in damage to their property, the city could expect to be held liable.

It was pointed out the residents expected action many months ago and assertedly had not received it although winter is approaching. The residents said they would use litigation only as a last resort.

Backed by City Attorney Blodgett, Councilman Layton said he did not blame the residents for wanting protection but that he felt the city should be careful what with the "warning" sounded, "that the city will be made liable in cases of damage."

Layton asked that he be relieved of his committee, that Smith be appointed in his stead and urged to settle the matter. Smith balked at Layton's motion.

Railroad Rails

City Engineer McBride said the best way for temporary protection would be to install two rows of railroad rails, driving them deep into the creek bed's edge, then place wire netting to support the earth banks.

"Perhaps the residents did not actually wish to make the city responsible," Brund added. "I suggest we find out whether this letter is meant as a promise the city actually will be held liable in cases of flood damage."

Little Benny's Note Book

I was going passed Shorty Judge's house and I heard somebody whistling up in the air and it was Shorty waving out the 2nd story window, me saying, What's a matter, come on out, and him saying, That's just a trouble, I aint aloud. My mother thought I was sassing her back when all I was doing was arguing. Hay I'll tell you what I'll do with you, Benny. If you can get my mother to leave me go out I'll give you half of my chockitl mushmellow bar, he said.

Well, G. how? How am I going to make her? I said, and Shorty said, Just ring the bell and ask her polite, she thinks politeness is grate.

Leave me see the mushmellow bar, I said, and Shorty held it up and I rang his front bell and his mother came to the door, me saying, Good afternoon, Mrs. Judge.

Being the politest start I could think of, and she said, Good afternoon, I suppose you'd like to know is Howard can go out.

Yes mam, may he come out? I said.

Sounding politer than can be come out, and Mrs. Judge said, No he may not, neither now or any other time when he's impudent to me.

Well G. Mrs. Judge, maybe he didn't really mean it, maybe he was suffering from excitement, I said, and she said, Then he's suffering from more excitement than he bargained for, and we'll let him suffer a while.

Well jimminy, Mrs. Judge, why should the innocent suffer with the gilty? said, and she said, who's the innocent for goodness sake?

I am, he promised me half of his chockitl mushmellow bar if I could get him out, I said.

The answer being the door banging shut, and I waved no up at Shorty and kept on going.

FINES ARE LEVIED AGAINST 6 DRIVERS

Six speeders, one who failed to appear, and one person driving without an operator's license, were fined yesterday by City Judge J. G. Mitchell.

The family doctor, with the aid of the tuberculin test and the x-ray, should search for tuberculosis among the persons coming under his care. In this way he will discover the disease before symptoms appear and the malady develops to the advanced stage."

Official acceptance of the new $11,500 fire engine which is capable of pumping more than 1,000 gallons of water per minute, was made by city council last night after Fire Chief John Luxembourger brought the vehicle to the corner of Main and Third street for an inspection before council meeting.

Wins Approval

This afternoon, at Jack Fisher park, the engine, largest in Santa Ana history, was put into action in a demonstration directed by Chief Luxembourger. The engine, tested at Los Angeles a week ago, was approved by the Board of Fire Underwriters. In the test today, the equipment was attached to a water main at the park, water being pumped into Santiago creek, adjacent to the park.

SOUTH AFRICA LACKS BUTTER

PRETORIA, South Africa (UP)—The export of butter to England is considered to be one of the reasons for the serious butter shortage which is being experienced throughout South Africa. More than two-thirds of the Union's production is exported to England.

Rust can be removed from steel by mixing half an ounce of emery powder with one ounce of soap and rubbing the rusted part well.

BULGED OUT OF SHAPE BY GAS!

Awful Attacks Came At Night; Now Relieved, He Thanks Van-Tage.

Hundreds of people throughout This Section are coming forward with their statements endorsing Van-Tage. The Amazing New Medicine now being introduced in Santa Ana. The following testimonial just came from Mr. E. W. Jordan, of 1039 West 20th Street, Los Angeles, Calif.:

"For a solid years I had been a sufferer. I would bloat up with gas so bad after my meals that I bulged out of shape. Sometimes these gas attacks would come upon me during the night and I couldn't sleep right because of this suffering, but would just roll and toss about the bed most of the night. My bowels were badly constipated so that I had to keep taking strong cathartics, and I had awful headaches. I read so much about Van-Tage I made up my mind to try it. And it cleared so much gas and bloat from my stomach that I'm not in misery now and can go to bed and get a full night's rest. Bowel constipation and headaches are relieved. I hope what I say will help others who suffer like I did."

VAN-TAGE contains over 30 ingredients, so it is like taking several medicines at once! Brings forth gas and bloat, helps cleanse bowels and invigorates sluggish kidneys, so that people declare it made them feel different ALL OVER. Van-Tage is NOT expensive, so get it—TODAY—at any McCoy Drug store, in Santa Ana, Huntington Beach, Balboa or Anaheim; sold also at Sontag drug store and Owl drug store in Santa Ana and by all leading druggists here and throughout California.

VETERANS' BONUS BONDS IN COUNTY STILL OUTSTANDING
IS ESTIMATED AT $462,168

Orange county's share of veterans' bonus bonds still outstanding is approximately $462,168, it is estimated on the basis of figures just made public by the treasury department in Washington.

On the same basis, an additional sum of approximately $256,760 in bonus certificates is estimated to be held by Orange county veterans who have not converted their certificates into bonus bonds.

The estimate of bonus bonds cashed by Orange county veterans is $1,848,672.

"Father of Law"

Basis of the estimate are figures compiled by Representative Wright Patman, "father of the bonus law," showing the payment due veterans in each county.

Bonds issued, according to the veterans' administration, aggregated $1,814,086,850. Payments on bonds, as announced by the treasury, totaled $1,456,213,050. Application of the ratios represented by these figures gives the estimate of bonds cashed, bonds issued but not cashed, and bonus certificates not yet converted, for Orange county.

HANDBILL LAW
REVISION READ

With Councilman Ernest H. Layton voting "no" because an outside newspaper, giving free copies away each week in advertising of wares sold in another city, "is injuring local merchants," city council last night, by vote of 4 to 1, gave first reading to an amendment of the handbill ordinance. The ordinance adopted in first reading, at last meeting, prohibited distribution of all free handbills, pamphlets, etc., and included newspaper "throwaways."

The amendment as adopted and which must be adopted a second time to make it effective, provides that newspapers, distributed free or in connection with paid subscriptions, be exempted from the handbill ordinance provisions.

Gives Objection

Motion for the amendment was made by Councilman Plummer Bruns, seconded by Councilman William Penn. Voting for the amendment, Penn added, "But I still think the ordinance is too severe in its requirements."

The ordinance was prepared after numerous property owners complained the "free literature" cluttered their lawns, made fire menace, stopped sewer lines and, when allowed to gather on lawns or porches while owners were absent, attracted thieves.

WOMAN'S WORK NEVER DONE MANCHESTER, England (UP)—In a year the "average woman" washes an acre of dirty dishes, three miles of clothes and one mile of glass, and scrubs and washes five miles of floors. These figures were offered by Mrs. Eileen Murphy, home service director of the British Commercial Gas Association, in an address at a conference here.

REDDING MAN
HEADS LAGUNA
WEATHER POST

The United States Weather bureau today indicated Laguna Beach had been definitely selected as a permanent four-man observation station in the agency's expanding scheme of providing detailed regional weather information for aviation operations.

Redding Man Named

Selection of D. G. Clark, a weather bureau expert now stationed at Redding, Calif., to oversee activities at the Laguna Beach station, was announced in Washington, D. C.

Weather bureau officials said Laguna Beach was selected because it occupied a strategic location in the bureau's general scheme to locate observers where they will afford the greatest aid in charting weather flying conditions. It has long been felt, they said, that a fully manned station at Laguna Beach would be a distinct aid to the bureau in studying weather possibilities in the area.

Commissioned Employee

The new station head has been with the weather bureau for several years, it was said, and the transfer also represents a promotion. He will be the only member of the station personnel rated as a "commissioned" employee of the weather bureau.

Employment of the other three observers making up the Laguna Beach station personnel will be on a part-time basis, although they are picked on a basis of rigid specifications.

CALLING
all DOGS

By Albert Payson Terhune

WHEN DOGS WERE SACRED

Some two centuries ago, according to Oriental students, dogs were regarded in Japan as sacred. This because the reigning mikado happened to have been born under the astrological sign of the Dogstar. Wherefore the mikado issued an edict commanding that every Japanese family should own at least one dog—the richer the family the larger number of dogs—and that shelters be built in every district of every town or city where old or sick or injured dogs could be fed and otherwise cared for.

When a dog died, his owner was compelled to carry his body to the top of the highest mountain in the vicinity and there to bury it with honors. Nobody might kill a dog without special imperial permission. Forrester Primrose, in "The Tail-Wagger Magazine," of England, draws a vivid word-picture of the weary little Japs lugging the heavy bodies of their dogs to the mountain-tops, and suggesting they must have been glad their mikado had been born under the Sign of the

DEATH SLOWEST ON HIGHWAYS ON TUESDAYS, SURVEY SHOWS

Fewer persons will be killed or injured on California's highways today than any other day this week if the law of averages holds good.

A compilation of accident reports that the ratio of deaths to accidents is one to twelve, computed on the basis of the 36,516 accidents during 1936.

A breakdown of these 36,516 accidents shows 18,610 collisions between vehicles while the other collisions included 10,301 with pedestrians, 852 with trains, 462 with street cars and 2326 with fixed objects.

ATTORNEY DECLARES CIVIL SERVICE IS INSURANCE FOR GOOD PUBLIC SERVICE HERE

"Civil service is insurance of good public service, and the fact that Santa Ana now happens to have good men in its police and fire departments is purely a matter of good luck, without guarantee that present efficiency will continue," said James L. Davis, prominent attorney, in speaking before a group at civil service headquarters today.

Guarantee Provided

"Civil service, the scientific method of selecting and operating personnel, does provide the necessary guarantee of continued good service for these Santa Ana departments."

"Police work and its companion emergency service, fire protection, are, today, careers, or should be. Any city should guarantee itself the type of service that is produced by a well-organized group of trained workers who are ambitious to succeed and who know they have the opportunity to advance."

"No city wants the dead, shiftless type of service from workers who know that the political pull which got them their jobs will keep them on it, regardless of slackness; nor the uneasy, worried worker, who never knows when a new political administration may turn him out, regardless of his worth. That kind of worker can't concentrate on his job."

Provides Efficiency

"A city needs the type of service given by men who know they are going somewhere and that it is squarely up to themselves whether they get there. That's the combination that means efficiency, and that's what this city should insure for itself."

"But how? What inducement is there in Santa Ana at the present time for men to undertake police or fire department service as their life work? The answer clear is 'none.' The future of any man in these departments now is uninviting. Maybe he will be turned out before he gets fairly started. Worse than that, maybe he will be turned out after he has given the best part of his life to the service, has no other way to turn, and is unfitted to handle other work."

"It is such a situation today that deprives Santa Ana of the assurance that the good men it has in these emergency services can be retained, and that when replacements are to be made, similarly able men can be obtained."

System Praised

"The only way such assurance can be obtained is through civil service. Ever since President Grover Cleveland instituted federal civil service, that plan of employment has been recognized as the most efficient and economical devised. The merit system is a boon to both public and employee. It assuredly should be included in the civil service plan, which I trust will be approved by Santa Ana voters November 16."

Dog and not under the Sign of the Horse.

Today, apart from a few carefully-bred varieties of spaniels, etc., the dog seen ofttest in Japan is a semitaunted and stocky little bear-like beast. Nor is there, now, any Japanese code of laws which declares dogs to be sacred and nonkillable.

Ranch Brand
Recalled By
"XIT" Story

DALHART, Tex., Nov. 9. (UP)—If you've ever wondered how cattle brands were born, listen to the story of the XIT ranch, whose former employees recently met in reunion here.

During the 1880s, a Chicago syndicate acquired 3,000,000 acres of West Texas range land in exchange for building the huge red granite Texas capitol building in Austin. The syndicate commissioned "Barbecue" Campbell, first XIT foreman, to buy an entire outfit—cattle, horses and chuck-wagons.

Uses Boot Heel

With one outfit came Ab Blocker, greatest of the Texas trail drivers. "I need a brand," said Campbell. "One that will be hard for a rustler to change and one that can be made with a single iron bar."

Blocker thought a moment, then traced a design on the ground with his boot heel.

"How's that?" he asked. It was the XIT, designed to be some famous throughout the cattle country. XIT cattle roamed literally millions of acres, and the exploits of its cowboys were known throughout the area.

Swap Stories

XIT has no cattle now and its ranges have been made into small plots and sold. The syndicate now has only a few thousand acres of land, and that too is being sold. Its old-timers, however, have now formed an association which meets every year to swap stories about the old days.

Many stories concern "Barbecue" Campbell, the foreman. Once he needed a smoke and didn't have one, so he ordered a whole carload of brown cigarette papers.

CITY PLACED UNDER
1937 BUILDING CODE

City council went modern in one respect last night when it adopted, at second reading, an ordinance which allows the city to operate under the state's uniform building code of 1937. Heretofore, the code of 1935 was the pattern for Santa Ana's building construction laws.

The improvement was made upon recommendation of Building Inspector Harold Rasmussen. Councilman William Penn, commissioner in charge of the building department, moved adoption of the new ordinance.

OTHER CROPS TO BE INVOLVED IN
PARLEY TALKS

Representatives of the Orange County Farm Bureau will take part in group discussions of the problems of over-production and marketing that will feature the 19th annual convention of the California Farm Bureau Federation, which will convene Monday, Nov. 15, in Modesto.

R. D. Flaherty, executive secretary of the Orange county organization said representatives from the bean department, citrus and walnut growers and other departments of the farm bureau would participate in the parleys because of the serious situation facing growers of these crops through the threatened disastrous lowering of commodity prices.

"Distressed Position"

According to Alex M. Johnson, secretary of the California Farm Bureau Federation, special attention will be given to the "distressed economic position" of the bean industry. Arrangements have been completed for a conference between leading bean growers and P. R. Wilcox, marketing director for the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

Joint Meeting

California nut growers will attend a joint meeting to discuss ways of increasing distribution of the state's supply of walnuts and almonds. Other crops which will be considered with the aim to take direct action in relieving surpluses and price drops include rice, wheat, corn, citrus crops, poultry products, field crops, cotton, vegetables, avocados and deciduous fruits.

Three thousand representatives of farm bureau locals will attend the convention, Johnson said.

"WHY RED TAPE?"
--PERMIT GRANTED

Edward Brown, 24, 811 East First, was granted permission by city council last night to drive a taxicab in Santa Ana for the Blue Cab company after Councilman Ernest Layton reiterated his complaint that he "didn't see why it was necessary for more than Police Chief Floyd W. Howard and Police Commissioner Plummer Brown to approve such a permit."

He said he, member of the taxicab committee, did not have time to investigate history of applicants and always took recommendations of the police chief. The chief, commissioner, Layton and City Atty. Lew Blodgett are on the committee.

*Sunday Night
Supper Given
In Plum Home*

One of a series of charmingly intimate little affairs which the C. Mortimer Plums have planned to be held from time to time during the winter social season, was the buffet supper for which they assembled a group of friends Sunday night in their home, 411 Edgewood Road.

Mrs. Plum had arranged small foursome tables with the smartest of linen supper cloths, and bud vases in which autumn roses were mingled with heliotrope blossoms. There her guests found places after having been served from the dining table, a charming study in autumnal tones. A mound of tiny 'mums ranging through rust, copper and golden shades, reflected the radiance of the candles in matching tones, soaring from heavy silver candlesticks.

After dinner amusement was found in playing keno for a lively interval before contract was introduced. The hosts had provided attractive prizes for those scoring high in bridge, and Mrs. Dixon Tubbs and Loyal K. King were the fortunate winners.

Mr. and Mrs. Plum had as their guests, the Braden Finches, the Robert Bartholomews, Mr. and Mrs. Loyal King, Mr. and Mrs. Dixon Tubbs and Mr. and Mrs. W. Bradford Hellis.

Student Recital

Connecting music rooms of Miss Arline Birchard's home studio, 142 Fairview avenue, were garlanded with flowers Saturday evening as a friendly welcome to half a hundred guests, invited to a recital featuring two advanced pupils of Miss Birchard, the Misses Eileen

An interesting program showed the fine training in musicianship which both young artists have received, and offered in addition to their piano numbers, several additional features of interest. It opened with a piano duet, in which Miss Eileen was assisted by her sister, Miss Beatrice Baumbach, in playing "The Swan" (Saint Saens).

Several groups were presented by both of the featured players. Miss Baumbach, who is a senior in Anaheim High school, included in her program, two Chopin "Preludes," Schumann's "Happiness Enough," "Gondoliers" from Nevin's "A Day in Venice;" "Mazurka Impromptu" (Lack) and "Rustles of Spring" (Sinding) in addition to other duo numbers. With her sister, Miss Julia Day, a Huntington Beach High school freshman, played "Gypsy Rhapsody" (Haydn), "To the Rising Sun" (Torjensen), "Hungary" (Koelliker), "March of the Candy Dolls" (Rentor) and a Chopin Valse.

Other programmed features included Robert Hockaday's group of piano solos, and Mildred Lockett's violin solo, "Petit Air Varie" (Dancila), both greatly enjoyed by the guests. Miss Margaret Lockett accompanied her sister, who is a pupil of Elwood Bear. Marilyn

The second in the recital series will be held in December, featuring

Youthful Guest Group
Enjoys Dining and Dancing

Privileged to entertain a group of friends at dinner Saturday night in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Mize, 602 South Birch street, Miss Marjorie Mize staged a delightful party for several members of the junior social set.

With the football season making everyone conscious of the brilliancy of Santa Ana High school colors, it was pleasant to see them employed in table appointments. Scarlet cyclamen blossoms flamed in the center of the table, amidst the tapers in matching hues which lighted the scene.

Covers were laid for the hostess, Miss Mize, and for the Misses Patricia Emison, Jean Dowds, Carolyn Wells and Lucille Lambert and for Larry Stump, Harry Ashen, Bob Maddox, Don Warhurst and Ben Blee.

Mrs. Mize, who served the tempting dinner courses, assisted her daughter in planning a games program introduced in the early evening hours, followed by dancing.

Student Recital

Launching his student-concert season, Joseph Ogle staged two interesting piano recitals during the past week in his studio, 1201 North Van Ness avenue.

The first of these events was introducing the younger piano pupils and was presented before an audience of relatives and close friends of the young people. The second was a more impressive program featuring advanced pupils, and was enjoyed by many music lovers in the audience.

In welcoming the audiences each night, Mr. Ogle emphasized the fact that recitals are by no means the ultimate aim of music study, but are valuable as a means of self expression, and to aid students in preparing themselves for public appearances.

Students from Corona, Orange, Laguna Beach and Costa Mesa joined those from this city in the two programs. One of the outstanding features of the second recital, was the playing by ten-year-old Lucille Babcock of Laguna Beach, of "Indian Piece," composed by Ogle as a class assignment when he was a student in New York City.

Other important numbers included: Grig, Gretchen, Schubert, Wagner, Debussy, De Bussey, Beethoven, Chopin, Mozskowski and work of similar famous composers, played by Charles Jester, Herbert Naird, Leola Paine, Marjorie Babcock, Lucille Babcock, Gloria Crouse, Merle May Weimer, Norman Haskell, Mary Jane Stever, Dorothy Babcock, Gordon Decker, Charles Jester, Jimmie Landreth, Kenneth Loughton, Jimmie McKoon, Connie Murano, Betty Ogle, Wanda Fae Parsons, Barbara Reed, Donna Reed, Joan Wilcox and Mary Anne Woodward.

The Mixing Bowl
By ANN MEREDITH

Next to turkey, ham is the favorite for Thanksgiving dinner. Baked in a heavy overcoat of dough, the ham needs a brief parboiling to reduce the salt content. Skin it, rub dry mustard, brown sugar and pepper over all surfaces and wrap it in a flour and water dough (very stiff and about an inch thick). Roast in the dough overcoat, oven medium, allowing 20 minutes to the pound and only a smidge of water in the roasting pan. Strip away the dough, transfer ham to cookie sheet, cover with brown sugar, crumbs and spices and brown in a hot oven.

Ham, roasted in this fashion, shrinks but little . . . something to think about in this day of high prices.

Ham boiled in cider or sour wine is a rare dish. Lacking either you can boil the ham in water strongly flavored with vinegar and plenty of brown sugar. Don't boil it to death, for its final preparation takes place in a hot oven . . . try home mixed with finely crushed toasted crumbs flavored with nutmeg and cloves, or mixed with drained crushed pineapple, to coat the ham for its final oven browning.

If you want ham flavor without ham cost, serve a baked ham loaf. Mix (using your hands) 1 1/2 pounds hamburger, 1/2 pound bulk pork sausage, 2 cups soft bread, an egg beaten with 2-3 cup milk, a crushed bay leaf, pepper, but no salt. Have a pound of smoked ham run through grinder with the hamburger. Combine all ingredients, pack into a tin, cover top with diced pineapple, pressed into meat, and bake slowly for 1 3/4 hours.

Benefit Bridge Scores
Financial and Social Success

Continuing the College Patrons benefit party series introduced so pleasantly a fortnight ago by Mrs. Howard Timmons and Mrs. George Paul, was the dessert bridge at which Mrs. Dixon W. Tubbs was hostess late the past week in her North Tustin avenue home.

The Tubbs gardens, which have yielded blossoms for innumerable party hostesses throughout the autumn season, were by no means exhausted, as was proven by the wealth of glorious flowers at the command of the hostess for garlanding her home. They brightened small tables where dessert course was served in advance of the afternoon's contract play.

In the contest, Mrs. John D. Ball scored high and Mrs. Robert Bartholomew, second, each receiving a prettily wrapped gift from her hostess.

These parties will continue from time to time, as members of three important committees of College Patrons' association take this means of adding to the association's welfare fund. Mrs. Tubbs amassed the sum of $10 to contribute to this fund as a result of her hospitality.

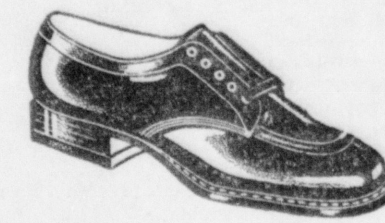

Those accepting her invitation included Mesdames Howard Timmons, L. L. Hurst, John D. Ball, John Backus, Robert Bartholomew, Paul Dismore, A. G. Flagg, H. T. Dunning, Sara J. Johnston Haddon, Miss Louise Tubbs, Mesdames Hugh Plumb, W. Bradford Hollis and Felton Browning.

WE, THE PEOPLE

By JAY FRANKLIN

BRUCE BARTON IN CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, D. C.—I do not agree with any of his professed principles and I believe that he represents a peculiarly antiquated point of view on national affairs—the application of the low ideals of a so-called salesmanship to the vital interests of the millions of men, women and children who compose the American people—but I heartily applaud Mr. Bruce Barton's election to the congress from the 17th New York district.

Here is a man of nation-wide reputation as an advertising wizard, a man who has made a safe reputation by writing books expressing his personal approval of the Holy Bible and Jesus Christ, a man who has been one of the high priests of Republican mass-propaganda and one of the foremost "plutocrats" of our time.

He has extolled success, he has been a good Rotarian, he has made a great fortune. He represents the suave of the high-pressure boys who applauded Coolidge "prosperity" until it ended in the Hoover crash, and who resisted every major measure for social justice and economic reform which the Roosevelt administration offered.

Yet it is all to the good of our political institutions that a man like Mr. Bruce Barton should come out in the open, enter public life directly and take a seat in congress, behind the scenes. His election suggests that the big business minority group, which once considered itself above politics and entitled to operate both political machines and the federal courts as well, now has decided to take part in the political process on a fair footing with the representatives of the people.

It is better to have Mr. Barton fighting for his principles on the floor of congress than to have Mr. Barton as one of the G. O. P. fire-horses who turned out every four years to manipulate public opinion in the interest of Big Business and then retired, leaving to subordinate the mere job of legislation and argument.

From yet another point of view, the minority group which Mr. Barton represents is entitled to a larger representation in congress.

There are still several millions of Americans who dissent emphatically from the Roosevelt progressive program, and in New York City itself is massed a phalanx of financial wealth and economic power which is entitled to be heard in our national councils. Proportional representation is still far being practical as a national policy, but within the limits of majority rule it seems desirable that the people should elect spokesmen for all important groups and political viewpoints. For example, I would infinitely rather have Jim Wadsworth as senator from New York state than Dr. Royal S. Copeland. And I think it is infinitely wiser to have these minority interests openly represented in congress instead of, as in the past, using the back door to the White House or the reactionary decisions of five antiquated judges as their means of promoting their interests.

If we accept the principle of majority rule in America, we must be prepared to provide regular, orderly means of fair representation for the minority.

Finally, if the Republican party is ever to be resurrected as a means of intelligent opposition it needs far bigger and abler men than those whom its owners have hired in the past. It must win a hearing—as did the progressives during the 1920's—as a result, not of numbers, but of the power of its ideas and the brilliancy with which those ideas are expressed. The Republican politicians who survived the New Deal landladies were a pretty mediocre lot, and those, like Borah, who had brains were elderly.

Their record of constructive criticism and patriotic opposition under the New Deal has been discouraging to any conceivable theory of representative government. New men, younger men, abler men, more brilliant men are needed if the Republicans are to do the job required of an intelligent opposition party.

No matter how liberals may dislike the Bruce Bartons of America, there can be little doubt that this particular specimen stands heads and shoulders above men like Bert Snell, White of Maine, or Steiwer of Oregon. As for the code of business ethics which he represents, the profit-motive produces a far lower order of social conscience than does the political motive under democracy. A good politician is a man whose word can be trusted, who is loyal to his friends and sensitive to the desires of the mass of people. Such a man can win a great following at the polls.

That is not the way great fortunes were piled up in the early 1920's by the super-babbits whose ideas and emotions Mr. Barton still represents. His service at Washington will provide an interesting experiment in applying the motives of the market-place with the serious problems of governing a nation of 125,000,000 Americans.

JIMMIE FIDLER IN HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 9.—Movie producers have the "Keeping-Up-With-Lizzie" malady in its most virulent form. Today, at Warner Brothers, I visited the sets where "Hollywood Hotel" is being filmed. How much money has been spent, all told, on their construction, I have no idea, but one of the studio's executives proudly informed me that "more than $75,000 went into the building of the rotunda, set alone. There are others just as lavish. At Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, the sets built for "Rosalie" are hailed as the "most expensive" ever erected in any studio. Sam Goldwyn must have spent $250,000 for the various "Marco Polo" sets and considerably more than that for the exotic backgrounds that will garnish the "Goldwyn Follies".

Check me if I am wrong, but I have a hunch that you are not "gaily as 'staggered'" as the producers think. I believe you are far more interested in plots and in stars than you are in the size or cost of a crystal chandelier. Box office records prove it—many of the most ornate pictures ever made have been dismal flops; many inexpensive, simple dramas have grossed millions. "The Miracle Man," produced for $35,000 without one expensive set, still holds all records with a gross of nearly seven millions.

Ironically, the same producers who are competing with one another to see who can spend the most on sets, wall the loudest about the impossibility of making a profit on big pictures. It might be a good idea for them to remember that "the play's the thing."

Lunched with Arthur Treacher, who punctuated three courses by telephoning to arrange steamer passage for his mother, who is returning to England after a summer-long visit with him. "What a trip she's going to have," Arthur enthused, "the Panama Canal, the Bahamas—just the kind of a voyage that I want to take some day when I have the time. She is in her sixties now but still keen to see things. Why, say, she has seen more of Hollywood in three months than the average native son has seen in his entire life. I've ordered her to take a complete rest for two weeks before sailing." "I should think the voyage would be rest enough," I suggested. "It will be—for her," Arthur admitted dolefully. "I've ordered the rest for my sake—I'm worn to a frazzle taking her to night clubs."

An amusing little incident involving Hollywood's operative queens—society Lily Pons, hearing that Grace Moore was to leave shortly for Europe, gave her a friendly party a surprise "going-away" rally, and had made, to dominate the table decorations, a model ship, carved out of solid ice. It was a thing of real beauty, lighted with colored lights, and with flags flying and officers and crew standing on its decks. Throughout the dinner, the guests commented again and again on the beauty of the ship—but Grace, herself, was strangely quiet. Not until the party was almost at an end did she explain the reason for her embarrassment. She had changed her plans and neglected to take her press agent. Instead of taking a boat to Europe, she had decided to take her trailer through Canada.

One of Hollywood's more popular citizens is Jimmy Manos, headwaiter at the famous Cocoanut Grove since the night of its opening some fifteen years ago. Jimmy not only knows everyone in town but is an intimate speaking acquaintance with most of the skeletons in every closet. "Those movie folk" were a rowdy lot when the Grove was born, and it is no secret that Jimmy was hired because of his reputation as a pugilist. During the first month, he gave five tips stars their come-uppance, brushed off their coats, and graciously escorted them to their cars. Hollywood, at first, was inclined to resent such efficiency, but Jimmy soon won all hearts. Possessor of a million dollars worth of carefully guarded secrets, he never betrayed one.

When Alice Faye first came to pictures, the press insisted on labeling her as an imitator of Jean Harlow. Alice was resentful, but helpless, and it took her years to live down the comparisons. Today, visiting her on the set, I heard the director praise her work in a scene, and after solemnly crossing her fingers, Alice said to herself: "Don't let any one kid you, Alice—'you weren't so good.' Turning to me, she added, 'I've made a habit of doing just that whenever any one compliments me.' I wonder if she knows that Jean Harlow had exactly the same habit—and even the same finger-crossing mannerism?"

June Lang's director was glowing at lunch today about the beauty of the costume she is wearing for a certain sequence—a very abbreviated costume, from his account. "An absolute masterpiece," he enthused, "Where it is, it is a triumph of man's art; where it ain't, it is a tribute to the craftsmanship of Nature. What a costume!"

PARENTS TO VOTE ON SCHOOL OPENING TIME

ORANGE, Nov. 9.—Parents will be given an opportunity of voting on the question of the opening hour of the elementary schools, according to action taken by the school board last night. Forms are to be printed and sent to parents who are to return them to the board with their preference for school hours.

Recently the opening hour of the elementary schools was changed from 9 a. m. to 8:30 a. m., bringing an earlier closing hour which varied from 3 to 3 p. m., according to the grades.

A delegation of mothers was present to protest the change to an earlier hour. They were Mrs. Wilbur Nave and Mrs. Jack Mayes, Center street school; Mrs. James E. Donegan and Mrs. Karl Gishbrenner, Maple street school, and Mrs. Harry Baues and Mrs. Carl Lucas, Lydia Killefer school.

The members of the delegation stated that they believed the hour set for opening school was too early for the younger children and that they desired to return to former school periods.

Tentative plans were discussed for enlarging the Killefer school playgrounds by the purchase of four lots providing satisfactory arrangements can be made. W. F. Feldner presided at the meeting.

Other members of the board are R. C. Patton, clerk, and Mrs. Doris Smith.

ORANGE, Nov. 9.—Civic activities of the community were topics for interesting talks given at a meeting of the First Toastmasters' section of the Orange Woman's club yesterday noon. Mrs. G. L. Niles spoke on "Our City Water Plant," Mrs. C. C. Bonebrake on "Our New Electric Fountain," and Mrs. Jane Welch on "Our County Purchasing Agent."

Table responses were from the topic, "Famous Sayings of Famous People." Mrs. C. F. Rowell gave the critic's report of talks made at a previous meeting. Mrs. E. S. Ross was toastmaster and Mrs. A. Haven Smith presided.

On November 22 the topic will be "Motion Pictures—Are They Beneficial or Harmful?" Benefits will be discussed by Mrs. F. E. Hallman, Mrs. W. H. Lowry, Mrs. C. W. Coffey and Mrs. W. H. Johnson. "Are They Harmful?" will be discussed by Mrs. E. H. Smith, Mrs. M. L. Pearson, Mrs. C. O. Powell and Mrs. Clyde Watson.

Present were Mesdames Fred Alden, C. C. Bonebrake, Arch. Burkett, C. W. Coffey, E. P. Egan, Mabel Faulkner, F. E. Hallman, Flora B. Johnson, Walter Kogler, W. H. Lowry, G. L. Niles, Ethel Niquette, M. L. Pearson, W. C. Pizley, C. O. Powell, E. S. Ross, C. F. Rowell, Flo Sc

NEW USE FOR LEMONS

Producers of lemons should be interested in the Nobel Prize in physiology and medicine being awarded in 1937 to the Hungarian, Dr. Albert Szent-Gyorgi.

He discovered that the vitamins in California lemons and cayenne peppers were useful as a cure for scurvy and beneath the skin bleeding. It is believed that this segregation of this vitamin may be of great assistance in helping stop easy bleeding.

If bleeding can be stopped with lemons, it might eventually be of great financial value to the lemon producers in California.

IS CIVIL SERVICE EQUIVALENT TO TENURE?

Some people contend that they do not think the proposed civil service for the fire and police department is equivalent to tenure.

There is no such thing as absolute tenure. Every office, even the tenure law protecting teachers, is subject to dismissal provided it can be proved that the person holding office has violated certain principles. The difficulty of course is to be able to prove to this commission incompetency in judgment and honesty. It is not like proving incompetency in doing mechanical work.

For this reason, civil service, as far as we can see, is synonymous with what is called tenure.

The columns of The Register are open and free for anyone to correct us if we are drawing the wrong conclusions.

That civil service practically is equivalent to tenure is a point that should be realized by every man who votes on this subject November 15.

YOUR ACCIDENT BILL

Accidents account for about 30 per cent of America's motoring costs!

This is the estimate of National Safety Council statisticians. They figure that the expense of an average 100-mile driving trip is $2.60, divided as follows: gasoline, $1.50; oil, 20 cents; tires, 19 cents; accidents, 71 cents.

The direct cost of last year's accidents, according to the same authorities, was $1,640,000,000. That is enough money to build or pave 550,000 miles of road, at a cost of $3000 a mile—or to buy 1,640,000 automobiles at $1000 each.

It is statistically impossible to accurately determine the indirect costs of automobile accidents. But all experts agree that they are substantially greater than even the vast direct costs.

Here is a gigantic, totally unnecessary drain on the nation's economic resources. And, bad as that is, it is nothing compared to the human waste that the reckless and incompetent driver causes. In 1936, traffic accidents killed almost 38,000 human beings. They injured 1,300,000 more—of whom a large number eventually may die as a result of the accidents. Blasted careers, parentless children, ruined homes—these are but three of the consequences of a heavy foot on the throttle, a drunk at the wheel, an incompetent in control of a lethal machine weighing thousands of pounds.

The most dangerous driving days are ahead, with rain and early darkness to add to the always-present hazards. Yet it is within our power to revoke precedent, and make winter a safe season. All that is needed is the co-operation of each motorist and pedestrian. Do your part!

NOT TODAY

In one of his recent columns, Paul Mallon, well known Washington commentator for The Register, recounts an interesting incident concerning the hearing recently held by the House Rivers and Harbors committee on the bill to create seven "little TVAs" around the country. At the hearing, no word was heard from the Army engineers—the experts whose advice usually is sought first on proposals involving navigation, flood control, electric developments, etc. The reason, according to Mr. Mallon is this: "By Executive order, all government departments are forced to air their views through the Budget Bureau. The engineers made their reports to this bureau, and it was an unfavorable report, in which they brought out a number of important objections to the plan. And the report was 'lost.' It never reached Congress."

The engineers' main objection, according to Mr. Mallon, was that the creation of "seven regional TVAs" would create seven regional policies. It would destroy the national standard and create seven new standards. Certainly this is a vital criticism, and one which would have been listened to with respect by Congress, had the Budget Bureau passed the report on.

Here is another illustration of the way politics handles issues affecting the pocketbook, the opportunities and the future of every citizen. It is an illustration of the way politics attempts to stifle any point of view, even from the highest and most authoritative sources, which opposes its aims. In the past, the Army engineers invariably have been consulted on all measures involving matters such as are covered in the "little TVA" bill. When the measures have passed, the engineers usually have been put in charge. But not today.

MAN'S RIGHT IN PROPERTY

THE AMOUNT OF THE COMFORTS OF LIFE PRODUCED BY SOCIETY AND HOW WIDELY THEY ARE DISTRIBUTED, DEPENDS ALMOST ENTIRELY ON WHAT PUBLIC OPINION DECIDES MAN'S RIGHTS IN PROPERTY TO BE.

FARM BUREAU HEAD AND A A A

R. W. Blackburn, president of the California Farm Bureau Federation, urges support of regulation of agricultural products.

He says, "If the farmers in other parts of the country can't sell their crops at a profit, they cannot afford to buy our citrus crops and other produce."

We would like to have Mr. Blackburn explain how the total purchasing power would be increased or decreased to buy oranges in the East if the consumers of farm products would, for instance, be obliged to pay $1 for a unit of consumption instead of 60 cents.

Would not they, then, have 40 cents less purchasing power and the farmer have 40 cents more purchasing power? Mr. Blackburn uses exactly the same reasoning as the Townsend advocates do—that taking from one and giving to another increases the total purchasing power. He uses practically the same logic as our modern educators—that purchasing power comes from wages and profits instead of from production.

He seems to think that people back East buy our oranges with money. When, in fact, they buy our oranges with what they produce. For instance, they ship us automobiles, radios, refrigerators and things we do not produce or manufacture here. It must be remembered that oranges have to be eaten by the laborers in manufacturing plants as well as farmers, if we are to have a big market and if other food is artificially high they have less to buy oranges.

It is true that the wider purchasing power is spread, the more oranges can be purchased. But the minute purchasing power is artificially created, it has a temporary stimulant which later decreases purchasing power. This is true because it prevents the accumulation of capital, which is necessary to enable workers to produce more and with this greater production buy and consume more.

We have not been able to find the leaders of the local Farm Bureau who believe that the farmers should give up their right to manage and produce and be controlled by the central government with the idea that this will increase total purchasing power.

What would Mr. Blackburn have these farmers do who are idle because the government limited them from producing as much as they can?

If our ability to consume food is limited by the capacity of the human stomach and our desires are for other things than food, then more of the farmers will be required to produce other comforts of life than food.

To attempt to spread the work on the farm and keep the farmers idle is, thus, standing in the road of progress. A hundred years ago, we had only a small fraction of the population engaged in other than agriculture. Just as we are demanding other things and a higher standard of living than food, we must have a greater per cent. of people engaged in producing these other comforts of life that we so cherish.

We all must admit of course, that if one group has the privilege of limiting production and keeping the price up and has the right to prevent other people from entering this field, that this particular group will be greatly benefited. But if the Universal Rule is the Golden Rule and if any group has a right to limit, all groups have a right to limit production; then society certainly would have less to divide and, consequently, a lower standard of living.

The columns of The Register are open to Mr. Blackburn to more fully explain how limitation of production will benefit society as a whole.

REAL TEETH IN LAW

As workers are being laid off, steel output is dropping, railroad carloading is declining and house building is less, it might be well to analyze what things have happened that would cause these layoffs.

Emerson coined a word called "causationist." It means a man who believes there is a cause for everything.

Within the last year, we passed a new tax law that really put sharp teeth in the income tax law. Under this new law, if a manufacturer retained his profit for expansion, the corporation paid an extra tax on his profit which he retained to reinvest and enlarge his plant. We know of one individual who retained $4000 and was taxed $1000 extra for retaining this $4000.

This new law makes it so that industry cannot do as it did before—incorporate and grow by paying the regular capital tax of about 13 per cent. Now it runs approximately 13 per cent for earnings and an additional tax, up to 50 per cent, for the corporation retaining it for expansion, or even for retaining it to pay off debts.

This really means that no rich man can now make profits and even use them in business for expansion, without paying from 50 to 60 per cent. Before he might only be obliged to pay 13 per cent. This certainly has a very definite tendency to prevent expansion, to prevent men from allowing their profits to be plowed back into business.

And there would be no employment at all if everyone had equal capital—equal tools. They all would be working for themselves.

This law prevents the accumulation of tools and capital which makes good wages possible. This undoubtedly is one of the primary causes of the decline in business.

Register Clearing House

(The articles under the Clearing House are published for the purpose of an exchange of ideas. Contributors are urged to confine their articles to 300 words.)

Editor Register: In the Register's "Clearing House" of Nov. 1st I asked Mr. Wentz of Newport Beach several questions concerning the "Townsend Pension Plan": to each of which I requested that he answer with plain yes or no.

I made this request for the reason that in all their discussions the advocates of the "Plan" evade, or at least slight, the objections that, to me, seem most apparent.

To these questions Mr. George Varnum submits rather lengthy answers, filling more than a column of newspaper space; a great deal of which was devoted to reflections on my own meager intelligence; more to discussions of subjects entirely foreign to the questions I asked; but he did apparently answer several with what might be construed as plain yes or no. And these yes and no answers I propose here to discuss.

But first I shall ask Mr. Varnum: If everyone of his allegations about my gross stupidity should be conceded to be true would his exposition of my own boasted ignorance add one jot or tittle to the strength of the "Pension Plan" argument? If not; why the vilification? Why subject me to such a barrage of ridicule and soul searing sarcasm?

I am just as sincere in my skepticism as Mr. Varnum can possibly be in his faith in this scheme so many good people seem to think the sole savior of our present civilization.

I have always worked for my living; sometimes rather hard. I am beginning to tire a little, and, if I could see my way clear, I would most cheerfully retire. I have never made $400 per month in my life, but I am sure both my good wife and myself could be supremely happy in spending the entire sum every month of the few remaining years we are destined to live.

But I just can't believe that other producers would long continue to toil and abstain that we might revel in such luxurious idleness; and calling me stupid is hardly a conclusive argument for its feasibility.

Mr. Varnum attempts to show that my questions could not be answered by a plain yes or no by asking me if I am still getting drunk or beating my wife. To both questions I can answer emphatically NO! For, I am not still getting drunk nor beating my wife. That was easy, very easy. Now let us see how Mr. Varnum answers my questions. Question No. 1 asked if the "Pensioners" would not consume commodities rather than dollars. Mr. Varnum says "The answer is obvious"; but immediately he wanders off into a lengthy dissertation on "circulating dollars," "frozen bank credits," a "new economic system" and various other unrelated subjects. But I shall presume that his "obvious" meant yes; which, I contend is a tacit concession that, if but one chicken is raised, there will be but one in a pot, no matter how many transaction taxes may be levied against the various sales of that one lone chicken; and if some farmer produces "pensioner" feasts; its unlucky producer must go hungry. I agree with Mr. Varnum that the answer is obvious but every Townsend advocate evades its legitimate conclusion.

Editor Register: To end all unrest to peoples of all capitalistic countries in the future:

1. Government law limiting percentage of profit on all goods or things sold, based on public demand during a full year of consumption.

2. Wages paid according to the above law; fast selling goods, lower wages, because of steadier employment; large wages to those working part time because of slower selling goods.

This applies to manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers. This would do away with credit racketeers because their percentage of profit would be limited and they could not exist on the profit of an honest business on account of risk taken.

Then the honest and honorable man and woman would rise to a position rightfully belonging to them. After all, it is the honest person that keeps the credit racketeer going, thereby paying 40 fold for merchandise used.

Reason

This is the only way to protect workers and the general public from credit crazes now sweeping all capitalistic countries. This is stifling all peoples except the rich and keeps young people from getting ahead. No matter how smart they are they're bound to fall in the dragnet of easy credit and easy payments, thereby sapping up all surplus that would otherwise be used as a foundation for a home or business.

Editor Register: Permit me to give a true account of the settlement of that unfortunate affair—the killing of my pet cat, that has had so much unpleasant notoriety.

It is true the cat was attacked while on leash, and it is true that the owner of the dog, Mrs. W. T. White, made me an offer for settlement for $5. This I refused, but told her I would settle for $10. This she agreed to pay, but failed to do so after a reasonable length of time, and I took the case to the justice court. After due notification from the authorities, Mr. W. T. White came to my home in person, and willingly paid the sum of $10 with the added sum of court costs, amounting to $2.75.

I immediately took the $10 to the Humane society, requesting that it be used for the animal shelter fund, which was accepted for that purpose. I felt that I had a right to do this—that the sacrifice of my pet might go to benefit other animals, not so fortunate—or unfortunate, as mine. I hope that this explanation will clear away any false conceptions of my part in the unhappy affair.

EDITOR THE REGISTER: The fair and impartial manner in which you and your staff have handled the publicity in the Curtis matter is greatly appreciated by me.

I want to thank you most sincerely for the consideration you have shown me by permitting the use of generous space in The Register for my statements on the affair.

Thanking you again, with kindest regards, I remain,

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Haven't the A. F. of L. and the C. I. O. got too much of a job on their hands kicking each other around to afford time to be jumping up and down on the poor prostrate form of the piteous ex-King-Emperor of England, Scotland and other assorted Empires and Dominions?

They've got a right to be sore at M. Bedaux if it is true that he had anything to do with installing the abominable stretch-out system which so speeds mass-production operations that few but the athletic can work at them, and they only in their prime—and then the scrap heap. But what has that to do with Dave Windsor?

Probably "The Man Who Would Not Be King" isn't very experienced in doping out itineraries. Up to recently he had an exclusive Cook's Tour Bureau of his very own to do that for him with branch houses in every country, port and town in the world.

But now with nobody but Wally to study the railroad timetables, hotel guides and steamship folders, he must have been glad when an apparently informed super-dragon stepped forward and offered to do the whole job. He probably didn't stop to realize that he was putting himself into the hands of a prize spotlight Barnum

CHAFING OF SKIN SURFACES OFTEN GIVES RISE TO PAINFUL IRRITATION

This is the sixteenth of a series of articles in which Dr. Morris Fishbein discusses diseases of the skin.

The skin is frequently so delicate that it responds seriously to the irritation that comes from rubbing together of two skin surfaces. This occurs, of course, between the thighs, under the and in the skin folds of the abdomen of people who are very fat.

Sometimes this kind of an eruption or irritation is seen between the fingers, and quite frequently it appears between the toes. Because ringworm of the feet, or so-called athlete's foot, is common, the mere irritation of the skin between the toes is sometimes diagnosed wrongly as athlete's foot. The only way to determine with certainty that the condition is athlete's foot is to find the parasites on the skin.

Sometimes there is irritation at the corners of the mouth due to rubbing or chafing.

When the skin once becomes seriously rubbed and chafed, it becomes much more easy for infections of various kinds to gain entrance so that quite frequently there is secondary infection.

The usual appearance of the skin in the condition called erythema intertrigo, which merely means chafing between two folds of skin, is the loss of the ordinary dull tone of the skin and instead the appearance of a tissue that is smooth, shiny, slightly reddened and somewhat moist.

Obviously the treatment of this condition involves first of all prevention. The methods of prevention will occur, of course, to anyone. The rubbing of the two surfaces must be prevented. If it is a matter of wearing shoes that are too tight, that is easily corrected. If the rubbing occurs because of overweight, it is obvious that reduction of the weight is exceedingly important.

Because the skin has been denuded of its upper layers by the rubbing, the use of caustic soaps of any kind is usually forbidden. The use of ordinary ointments, the pastes and lotions commonly advertised for skin cures is dangerous because most of these also contain irritating substances and are not applicable to a skin that is chafed.

The physician who looks at the skin under these circumstances will usually determine first of all that there is no infection present. This will frequently require the placing of some of the material from the skin under the microscope so that it may be studied in detail.

If then infection is not found, it is possible by the use of dressings to keep the skin surfaces from rubbing together and by the use of suitable powders, and by soothing lotions and bring about a cure. From that time on every thing possible must be done to prevent a recurrence of the condition.

News Behind the News

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—Political seismographs recorded a violent disturbance within the Republican party 714 miles west of here, but did not say why.

Everything at the Chicago meeting of the national committee was to have been peaceful. An inside count showed 55 votes for the Hoovers midterm convention plan when the leaders left here. Then, all of a sudden, as the committee members were about to sit down, outburst letters of unexpected disapproval from leader Landon and vice leader Knox. This pulled the chairs from under the 55 signed, sealed and almost delivered votes, and upset the well-laid plan.

If you think this came about through an earthquake, you are too young to be reading politics. Some equally well laid subterranean piping obviously was done, and from this end of the hole, it looks like the pipeline extended from the Washington office of Senator Borah to the Kansas home of Alf Landon. From evidence which cannot be disclosed, it appears a Borah-Landon working coalition got together for the first time in history to undermine the Hoover pre-arrangement. Other congressional authorities who are now being accredited with the victory, apparently were not even aware of what happened.

It is unlikely that this combination will continue. The cooperation apparently was negotiated for this deal only, but if it should be renewed it might easily dominate the Republican party.

These Republicans in Congress think they know more about politics than Mr. Hoover or the committee men who met at Chicago. At least they appear to have been more successful. They are still on the public pay roll.

They are not going around shouting about it, but the real reason they are opposed to the midterm convention and even a statement of party principles, is a purely practical one.

The Republican candidate for congress in Oregon next year may not want to run on exactly the same platform as a candidate in New York City. If you try to write a declaration of principles for both, it will be as broad as those meaningless doctrines which are adopted at Presidential nominating conventions, and which are immediately forgotten or revised by the candidates to suit themselves.

Reports coming out of the House agriculture hearing have indicated all are in perfect accord on a farm program. Fact is they cannot even decide which came first, the chicken or the egg. Actually, considerable time has been spent in the secret sessions trying to decide whether the selling price of corn determines the price of livestock.

After a recent session chairman Marvin Jones said to his colleague Dick Kieberg:

"Let's go down to see a wild west movie."

Three, among exploding pistol shots, they found peace.

The Duke of Windsor knew more than was given out about plans for his reception here.

Madame Secretary Perkins, for instance, suddenly developed a previous engagement in Salt Lake City for the day of the Duke's proposed arrival here. The Duke's advisers were not informed whether she was going to such a far-fetched picturesque city for a lecture or a grain of salt.

Such a little move coupled with Mrs. Roosevelt's less pointed valid engagement in the middle west and Interior Secretary Ickes' brazen discourtesy gave more of an official flavor to what has happened than was apparent at the time.

One congressman tells this one himself:

After a particularly bitter campaign, the bitter opponent walked right up to the member-elect, put out his hand and offered congratulations, saying: "Your election is the greatest thing that ever happened to this district."

"Why?" asked the overwhelmed M-E.

"Because it is an inspiration to every blankety-blank ignorant fool in this district," replied the B-O. "They know that if you can get elected they may too, someday."

Indiana's Senator Van Nuys is disturbed. Senate leaders agree, before adjournment last summer, to take up his anti-lynching bill as soon as the farm bill is disposed of. Lately Van Nuys has been hearing vague reports the agreement will not be kept. He has been correctly informed.

ed States! It is a silly and absurd outrage on the hospitality of the United States by men who are rapidly raising the question in many minds whether they themselves, deserve that hospitality.

The stretch-out system is one abomination, and Hitler is another. But to hook up this baffled and ruined royal incompetent with either, for the reasons here advanced, is hypocrisy enough to give the heavens to a hyena—and that is almost impossible.

If going to Russia, Germany or Italy and asking the boss-man just what he thinks he is trying to celebrate makes a man a Communist, a Nazi or a Fascist, then a good many of our economic royalists, journalists, diplomats—wolves in sheep's clothing.

A thin little middle-aged man-kin who couldn't keep his eyes off a skirt long enough to hold one of the greatest governments on earth, when he had it, isn't likely to be turned into a menace to any other government just by gawking at a dictator or two.

Some of the published tripe of the self-styled "liberals" on this subject shows just how liberal they are—which is a little less liberal than the rack-tenders of Torquemada's Inquisition, or the Sederin that tried the Master.
